PA NEWS OBSERVES

New Castle will be lost to another convention this week and Pa. News urges that all citizens co-operate to make the state conference of the D.
A. R. a memorable success insofar as city hospitality is concerned. Those in charge locally urge that flags be put out in honor of the visiting delegates. Pa. News is certain that there will be a tremendous response to this request.

Two Halloween parades are scheduled for this week, one on the South Side Wednesday night and one uptown on Thursday night. Pa. News would like to see the sidewalks recorded off and the crowd be required to stay behind the ropes. The parades are taking place. It could add much to the success of the affair.

One week from tomorrow is election day. City and county officers are to be named by voters. Up to the present time little interest has been displayed in the election, but it is anticipated that the day will witness considerable more interest.

Saturday afternoon football enthusiasts certainly have been favored this fall. The weather has provided ideal football weather so far this season.
Saturday the New Castle fire commanded the road to New Wilmington raging.

Autoists who were driving the Wil-this morning got a real thrill. One of the New Castle fire command commanded the road to New Wilmington where a fire of large proportions was raging.

Apparently the light jubilee celebration is over. The glow of the cluster lights on the public square were not burning last night.

Makes no matter how trivial an auto collision may be it always draws a large crowd of spectators. In a few moments, Pa. News saw quite a large crowd gathered on Jefferson street last night when two cars had come together at an intersection. The accident was not a serious one but the crowd was there nevertheless.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Casting the traditional senatorial courtesies to the high winds, Senator Hiram Bingham (R) of Conn., and members of the senate lobby investigating committee indulged in a vitriolic debate this afternoon over his employment of a paid lobbyist to aid in writing the new tariff bill.

While the chamber seethed with excitement, Bingham charged the committee was "framed" against him and every interest of the administration and with "conducting a modern Spanish inquisition." He declared it had avoided its duty of investigating lobbyists in order to "besmirch" his reputation and character.

Two committee members—Senators T. H. Caraway (D) of Ark., chairman and John J. Blaine (R) of Wisconsin—replied in like vein.

The harshest blow to Bingham came from his Republican colleague, Senator Robinson, of Indiana. Robinson denounced Bingham's action and declared neither the Republican party nor the American people could approve of it.

Then Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska entered the chamber and announced he would introduce a resolution.

PLANE WAS BEING TOWED TO LAND

Pilot Makes Landing On Tur-

Help, But Storm Is Too Intense

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Gulf of Genoa was being scoured by air and sea craft today for the bodies of four of the seven persons who were drowned when the British Imperial Airways flying boat City of Rome sank in a furious gale while being towed to safety.

Only three bodies have been recovered so far, according to reports received today from Genoa. Of the seven victims, four, including one woman, were passengers. The other three comprised the air liner's crew.

The plane, an all-metal tri-motored affair, was in the Indian air mail service. It was making the Alexandria to Genoa lap of its westward flight when the tragedy occurred.

Running into a terrific 70-mile-an-hour gale about 10 miles south of Spezia in the Gulf of Genoa, the 27-year-old pilot, L. S. Birt, a former Royal Air Force flier, realized that a forced landing was necessary. He ordered Wireless Operator Stone to send out calls for help and made a good landing on the furious sea.

Help came in the form of the little 400-ton Italian steamer Famiglia.
It was impossible to transfer those aboard the plane to the steamer because of the high seas, so three tow lines were attached.

After towing the plane for some time, the captain of the Italian ship

STATE D. A. R. CONFERENCE OPENS TUESDAY EVENING

Delegates Will Begin To Arrive In New Castle
This Evening

Many Features Are On Program Which Lasts
Through Friday

Pennsylvania Daughters of the American Revolution will open their state conference here Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock with a musicale and a reception to the President-General of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs.
Lowell Fletcher Hobart and the State Regent, Mrs. Joseph M.
Caley, and the other national and state officers who will attend.

This is the first time that Lawrence Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution have honored New Castle by choosing the city for the state convention and the Regent of the chapter, Mrs. James Tolles Ray, and her large group of committees have left nothing undone that the conference might be a success.

Splendid Artists on Program.

For the musicale, which will be held in the west lodge room of the Cathedral, the program committee has secured a number of well known artists.
Among them are Miss Mabel King, soprano; Christine Miller Lucas, contralto; Miss Mary Long, pianiste; Albert Benkiner, tenor; William Campbell, baritone, and Albert Taylor, accompanist.

The program will open at 8:30 with two numbers by Miss Long, followed by two numbers by Miss King. Miss Long will again play and will be followed by two songs by Christine Miller Lucas. Then comes a cycle of songs "Flora's Holiday" by the entire group.

The reception to the national president-general, Mrs. Joseph M. Caley, and the other national and state officers attending will follow the musicale.

Convention Opens.

Wednesday morning will see the convention getting down to business.
Following the assembly call by Russell C. Melvin, Mrs. Jay L. Reed will play the processional and the 33rd annual conference will be called to order by the state regent, Mrs. Joseph M. Caley of Philadelphia. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, and following it the conference will join in the singing of "America" led by Mrs. Howard Mee-re.

which will be held here on Saturday, November 9th.

It is expected to have several hunhere for the coming reunion, and plans are being carried forward by the local boys to provide a fine pro-

Siren Screaming; Engine Makes Record Speed To College Town Fire

New Castle firemen broke the speed law this morning. Not just broke it, shattered it into a lot of fragments, but nobody will ever ask to have them hailed before a squire.

The speed law breaking occurred when New Wilmington sent in an emergency call for help shortly after nine o'clock. An apartment building was burning and the New Wilmington fire apparatus was useless.

Get Away In A Hurry

As he received the call Chief Lynn ordered the pressure pump truck out and in a moment the truck was maneuvered to Jefferson street. Chief Lynn pulled out in back of them in his car.

With the siren screaming like the wail of a thousand banshees, the pump truck roared up Jefferson street.
Traffic pulled over to the left, and

Pantages Found Guilty By Jury, Faces Sentence

Alexander Pantages, Millionaire Theatre Magnate Faces One To Fifty Years

JURY DELIBERATES
FIFTY-THREE HOURS

Was Convicted Of Attacking
Miss Eunice Pringle Who Applied For Dancing Job

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Found guilty of criminally assaulting 17-year-old Eunice Pringle, Alexander Pantages today faces a prison term in San Quentin penitentiary from one to fifty years.

The jury of seven women and five men returned the verdict sealing the millionaire theater magnate's fate last night after being out a trifle more than fifty-three hours.

The jurymen signalled the court bailliff at 9:20 p. m. that a verdict had been reached. Ten minutes after they had filed into the jury box they pronounced Pantages guilty of an assault on the girl dancer who applied to him for a booking on his vaudeville circuit.

Recommend Clemency

Their verdict contained no compromise. It was within the jury's province to determine whether Pantages' punishment should be not more than one year in county jail or up to a half century behind San Quentin bars. They decreed the limit.

One gesture of leniency was made.
In their formal written verdict they added one extra line, a recommendation for clemency. But the law takes no cognizance of this.

When Judge Charles Fricke sentences Pantages next Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, he must sentence him to the "prison term set by statute."
That statute reads, without any compromise, "not more than fifty years in state prison."

Pantages' attorney will file a motion for a new trial, which will act as automatic stay of sentence until the motion is heard at some later date which the court will set.

Glad It's Over

Los Angeles, Oct. 28.—"I am so glad it's all over,"
The youthful face of Eunice Pringle, the girl in the Pantages case, who had awaited the verdict at a hotel, fairly shone today with pleasure at the verdict.

"I'm so glad it's all over," she repeated. "I had always thought they would find him guilty. I couldn't see how they could do otherwise."
"And I am glad that justice was done, not just for myself, but because it means that it will help to deter others from similar crimes."
"No, I have not decided whether I shall continue with my career on the

New Castle To Receive $75,912 Union Township Home Destroyed

City's Share Of State Highway Street Fund Is Increased

In an announcement made today by the state highway department,
New Castle's share of the allocation of money for the maintenance and construction of streets over which main highways pass amounts to $75-912, which is more than was at first anticipated.

The money is a portion of the $2-000,000 allocated by the 1929 session of the General Assembly to second and third class cities for help for their streets and this amount alone nearly equals the extra cent gasoline tax that will be paid by all of Lawrence county for the year it is on. In addition Lawrence county gets nearly three quarters of a million dollars for road construction most of which is either done or under way.

New Castle High.

New Castle was fortunate in the allocation of the money due to the fact that several state highways go through New Castle. The state highway department shows that there are 10.63 miles of state highway going over New Castle streets and this puts this city high in the list of Pennsylvania cities aided.

Pittsburgh gets $217,453, Erie $138,989, Johnstown, $88,580 and Altoona gets $70,770.

Under the plan agreed to by city council and the state highway department Grant street and Croton avenue will be repaid by the money.

FOUR APARTMENT HOUSE IN NEW WILMINGTON IS RUINED BY FIRE TODAY

Big Structure Owned By J.
C. Monroe, Burns During Morning

SOME OF FURNITURE
SAVED BY VOLUNTEERS

New Castle Sends Fire Engine
To Scene—Low Water Pressure Handicap

Inadequate water pressure resulted in a disastrous fire at New Wilmington early today when the four apartment building on West Vine street owned by J. C. Monroe was completely destroyed by fire.
The damage is estimated at about $25,000, part of which is covered by insurance. Only the splendid work of the New Castle Fire Department which was hurried to the scene, saved the homes on either side of the burning building.

The Monroe apartment building was two story, frame construction with a dormer on the top serving as a couple of bedrooms. Underneath at the back were a garage, so that the building was really three and a half stories high in the rear and two and a half on West Vine street.

Cause Not Known

While it is not definitely known, it is thought that the fire started with a small gas stove in the bathroom of the apartment, which was owned by Colonel and Mrs. Daniel McQuiston. At about 8:45 o'clock W. Filmore Campbell, passing in a truck noticed smoke and flames coming from the building, and immediately turned in an alarm. In the meantime, several students who resided in the apartment building endeavored to put out the fire.

Had there been an adequate water supply there seemed little doubt that the building could have been saved.
The New Wilmington fire apparatus was soon on the scene, but with no pressure pump, and small mains providing the water, their hose lines were not effective in checking the blaze.

New Castle Sends Aid

Realizing that the fire would soon be beyond control, the New Wilmington men sent in an emergency call to Chief Charles H. Lynn of the New Castle Department, and he ordered out the new high pressure pump engines. Putting the truck over the road at nearly fifty miles per hour, the New Castle men were in New Wilmington in about eleven minutes, but by that time the flames were roaring skyward and the building was an inferno.

Even with the New Castle engine boosting the water pressure along, the 1.8-inch nozzle attachment was too large to get any sizeable stream on the flames, and Chief Lynn attached a three-fourth inch nozzle. This helped considerably, but the flames by this time had eaten out the second floor and were into the first floor. The water was then turned onto the brick house of the Hope sisters to the west and the frame house on the corner east of the Monroe building.

Students Render Aid

When the alarm became known students of Westminster College forgot their classes and rushed to the scene.
Many of the athletic stars could be

PUT OUT FLAGS

Tuesday, October 29, marks the opening of the state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, here. The conference lasts through Friday.

Every one of the members of this organization traces a clear lineage back to one of the Revolutionary soldiers and as a gesture of patriotism upon the part of the citizens here it is asked that American flags be displayed on the four days mentioned.

The business houses are asked to display the flag from the flag holders in the sidewalk in front of their places of business.
Residents are asked to display the flag from the windows of their homes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The congressional lobby investigation entered its third week today with the Senate privately discussing the advisability of administering a reprimand to Senator Hiram Bingham (R) of Connecticut for his action in employing a paid manufacturers' lobbyist as his secretary while the new tariff bill was being drafted.

A resolution of censure against Bingham was drawn by Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, insurgent leader, who kept it in his desk while the Connecticut senator's action was denounced following a report from the lobby investigating committee. There was a general feeling that the investigating committee should have recommended some punitive action for Bingham. While many senators urged some expression from the Senate repudiating Bingham's act, there appeared to be no leader of the movement.

They often loaf for a week at a time, and they seem to have little to do, except shine the brass and the metal parts till they look as though they were new. They sit around for a day at a time, but let a fire come in, and the boys are out in a mad-duties begin. Their job may call them to save a life, or battle a wicked blaze,

State Leaders From Many Sec-

Two Special Trains

While the 33rd annual conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution which opens here Tuesday is a state conference, it will assume the flavor of a national convention, judging from the number of national officers and presidents of other states who will be here.

Mrs. Joseph M. Caley, state regent, is already in New Castle and will be joined tonight by the following state regents: Mrs. P. S. Adams of Montana, Mrs. Backs of Ohio, Mrs. A. S. Shaw of Maine, Mrs. Chubbach of Illinois, Mrs. J. L. Gavin of Ondoana, Mrs. H. B. Jay of Michigan, Mrs. W. B. Burney of South Carolina, Mrs. Gunerney of Kansas, Mrs. Garrison of Maryland.

Tuesday evening two special trains from Philadelphia and the eastern cities will arrive here bearing national and state officers and delegates from the east.

D. A. R. Welcomed By Commerce Chamber

Each delegate to the annual conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which opens here tomorrow, will be given a little folder of greeting from the Chamber of Commerce, expressing the cordial welcome of the citizens of New Castle.

The folder contains views of the new James Memorial hospital, Cathedral, Castleton and other objects of interest, together with several views of local industries.

Statistics of the city in a condensed form are also included in the folder, which is a most attractive one.

Not Feeling Well

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 28.—Broken in body and spirit, Alexander Pantages, millionaire showman convicted of criminally attacking Miss Eunice Pringle, awoke this morning in the county jail and complained of not feeling well.

"It's pretty tough," he remarked. The jail food did not appeal to him. All he wanted was a cup of black coffee.

Regardless of the wealth of prisoners, they are not allowed to have meals brought in from the outside.

Pantages occupied a separate cell last night but there were others in the same tank—a section of the jail designated as the "high power" tank because of the prominent prisoners therein.

Maybe genius just seems to function best in a garret because success doesn't let him sober up long enough to function.

Prof. F. L. Burton, Ben Franklin principal is in charge of this task.

Building work in New Castle has been rushed during the past few weeks of fine weather. The First U. P. church at Glenmore and Albert is being roofed while inside work is also under way. The down town Sears Roebuck and Co. store room was erected in record time while other smaller jobs likewise have been hurried. Reports are that work on the projected Epworth M. E. building will get started soon.

Like everyone Pa Newc has a wish. It's coming Christmas time and the boys at the postoffice already feel the effects of cramped conditions. All of the New Castle mail business was handled in the local office last year and crowded the office terribly. A new building is promised for the coming year.

People residing in the hill districts were surprised to find a heavy blanket of fog enveloping the downtown section when they went to work this morning. The sun was scarcely visible through the mist which did not dissolve until almost 9 o'clock.

Sunday was another beautiful day and motorists of the county took advantage of the fact to ride into the country which is especially beautiful with its array of fall colors.

There are a lot of sidewalks in different sections of the city which are in bad state of repair. One of the Pa Newc family almost broke an ankle when he stepped into a hole in a dark spot along one of the residential streets last evening. Something ought to be done to have all sidewalks in the city put in a good state of repair.

The South Mercer street parking ground was again well filled Saturday evening. The spot is but a short distance from the main business section.

Fortunately the library of Dr. Gilbert Taylor, head of the Latin department of Westminster, was saved for included in his books and papers were some original manuscripts of Virgil and Cicero. Although no rain has fallen locally for several days, the Shenango river continued to rise over the week end, and this morning, showed a stage of 4.9 feet. It had started to recede slowly this morning. The rise is believed to have been the aftermath of the storm last week, which flooded the Pymatuning swamp section.

There was an extremely heavy frost this morning when a temperature of 27 degrees was noted. Welcomed By Mayor Gillespie.

Mayor William H. Gillespie will deliver the address of welcome for the citizens of New Castle and greetings from the hostess chapter will be delivered by Miss Jennie L. Morgan of New Castle, organizing regent. The response will be made by Mrs. Joseph M. Caley, state regent.

John L. Walker, state president of the Sons of the American Revolution, will bespeak the interest of his organization in the conference, and Arthur W. Walter Brahm will deliver the greetings of the American Legion. For the Cathedral association, Attorney Robert M. White will speak. This will be followed by an address by the president-general, Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart. Greetings will then be given by national officers, ex-national officers, honorary state regents, ex-state vice regents and ex-state officers. The report of the committee of rules will follow by Mrs. Joseph B. Arrowsmith, chairman, and the report of the committee on credentials by Mrs. Oliver H. Meyers, chairman. The roll call will be conducted by Mrs. John Walter Wells, state recording secretary. Following this the conference will adjourn for lunch.

Reception.

Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock Mrs. Charles H. Johnson will hold a reception for the delegates at her home at 221 Moody avenue. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the state dinner will be held with Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college, as the speaker.

The feature of the Thursday afternoon session will be a trip to Westminster college where the delegates will be entertained by Mrs. W. Charles Wallace and Mrs. Charles Barr Robertson. The trip will be made in automobiles starting at 3 o'clock.

Secretary of Labor.

Thursday evening marks the only public session of the entire conference when Secretary of Labor James J. Davis will deliver an address in the auditorium of the Cathedral. This is the only opportunity the public will have of seeing any of the sessions and because of Mr. Davis' prominence it is expected that the Cathedral will see a splendid crowd. In order to give those who attend the Halloween parade an opportunity to hear Mr. Davis, his address will be held back until about 9:15 o'clock.

Because of the lack of space in the west lodge room, visitors will not be permitted to attend any other of the meetings, they being restricted to Daughters of the American Revolution.

han. The salute to the flag will be led by Mrs. William H. Alexander, state vice-regent. The American's Creed will then be discussed as a conference topic.

Welcomed By Mayor Gillespie.

Mayor William H. Gillespie will deliver the address of welcome for the citizens of New Castle and greetings from the hostess chapter will be delivered by Miss Jennie L. Morgan of New Castle, organizing regent. The response will be made by Mrs. Joseph M. Caley, state regent.

John L. Walker, state president of the Sons of the American Revolution, will bespeak the interest of his organization in the conference, and Arthur W. Walter Brahm will deliver the greetings of the American Legion. For the Cathedral association, Attorney Robert M. White will speak. This will be followed by an address by the president-general, Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart. Greetings will then be given by national officers, ex-national officers, honorary state regents, ex-state vice regents and ex-state officers. The report of the committee of rules will follow by Mrs. Joseph B. Arrowsmith, chairman, and the report of the committee on credentials by Mrs. Oliver H. Meyers, chairman. The roll call will be conducted by Mrs. John Walter Wells, state recording secretary. Following this the conference will adjourn for lunch.

Reception.

Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock Mrs. Charles H. Johnson will hold a reception for the delegates at her home at 221 Moody avenue. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock the state dinner will be held with Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college, as the speaker.

The feature of the Thursday afternoon session will be a trip to Westminster college where the delegates will be entertained by Mrs. W. Charles Wallace and Mrs. Charles Barr Robertson. The trip will be made in automobiles starting at 3 o'clock.

Secretary of Labor.

Thursday evening marks the only public session of the entire conference when Secretary of Labor James J. Davis will deliver an address in the auditorium of the Cathedral. This is the only opportunity the public will have of seeing any of the sessions and because of Mr. Davis' prominence it is expected that the Cathedral will see a splendid crowd. In order to give those who attend the Halloween parade an opportunity to hear Mr. Davis, his address will be held back until about 9:15 o'clock.

Because of the lack of space in the west lodge room, visitors will not be permitted to attend any other of the meetings, they being restricted to Daughters of the American Revolution.

from membership on the Senate finance committee. No such punishment ever has been meted out to a senator and it would require a majority vote of the Senate to carry it into effect. Dill based his suggested punishment on the fact that Bingham had taken Charles L. Eyanson, the paid lobbyist, into that committee's sessions as his secretary while rates were being fixed. Other members of the committee have denied knowing Eyanson's connections at the time.

The inquiry will be resumed tomorrow with another tariff lobbying organization under fire. A. J. Arnold, long active as a lobbyist and now heading the Southern Tariff League, will be questioned. He has a reputation here of being active on a wide range of legislative subjects, once having led a movement for repeal of

Radium Worker Is In Critical State

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Physician at Memorial hospital said today that Mrs. Quinta McDonald of Orange, N. J., one of five women victims of radium poisoning, has only a short time to live. They described her condition as very critical.

Mrs. McDonald absorbed infinitesimal particles of radium in wetting brushes at the radium plant in Orange, N. J., where she was employed to apply luminous paint to watch dials.

Each Year More Mothers
Treat Colds Externally Dangers of "Dosing" Colds Now Avoided
by Use of Vaporizing Ointment

When Vicks VapoRub was introduced, mothers especially were quick to appreciate it, because it is just rubbed on and cannot upset children's delicate stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do. Today the whole trend of modern medicine is away from needless "dosing."

External Treatment Best

As more and more mothers adopted this modern external way of treating colds, the fame of Vicks spread until it is now the standby for colds, adults as well as children's—in over 60 countries.

Just rubbed on throat and chest, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster; and, at the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing.

Now "25" Million!

Ever-increasing demand for this better way of treating colds is shown in the figures of the familiar Vicks slogan. Made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—there are now "Over 28 Million" Jars Used Yearly in the United States alone.

STAR LORE
THE FIRST ASTRONOMICAL TELESCOPE
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter Galileo (1564-1642, holds the disinction of being the first scientist to develop the telescope into an instrument for observing heavenly bodies. He tells us that about 10 months before he reached his first attempt, a report reached his ears that a Dutchman had constructed a telescope, by the aid of which visible objects, although at a great distance from the eye of the observer, were seen distinctly as if near. Galileo's first trial was with a lead tube, in the ends of which he fitted two glass lenses, both plane on one side, but on the other side, one spherically convex, the object glass, and the other concave, the eye piece.

Honoring the birthdays of her daughter Eileen 6, and Florence 3, Mrs. Regis Crable, Fern street, entertained 16 guests in her home Saturday afternoon.

The guests of honor received a number of gifts and various games were enjoyed during the afternoon.

Hallowe'en favors were used, and the hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. A. Arnold, Mrs. Mary Crable, Miss Elizabeth Arnold and Mrs. Zurasky.

The present liquidation in the stock market is not due to nor does it reflect general business conditions throughout the country. In the long run prices of securities must be determined by their yield and earnings on an investment basis. I believe basic business conditions sound and that production and consumption of goods in most lines have been fairly well balanced. Beyond this there appears to be no evidence of speculation in commodities such as that which occurred in 1920. He can change an Indian to a darker color and with the physical character of a negro or mold it Japanese so that it would have the appearance of a Caucasian. THE RULE OF HONOR

Newspaper work often brings to its practitioners tragic situations that severely test character. For instance, there is the common experience among editors of having to publish unpleasant news concerning personal friends and neighbors. Ethically, there can be no favored exceptions in the news, and although the justice of this is apparent to persons capable of abstract thinking, the editor who follows through is often looked upon in his social circle as heartless and unsocial. But good men put private considerations aside at such times and depend upon the great physician Time to justify their course in the minds of those who have been denied special news favor.

We are reminded of this situation this week by a heartbreaking circumstance that befell John O'Donnell, a drunken lover of a man of inferior type, Mr. O'Donnell could not at first believe the victim was his daughter, a well educated girl, who had won her spurs in newspaper work in Pittsburgh and was in Washington in a responsible position on the editorial staff of the National Geographic Magazine. The drunken father, however, confirmed the news and then with his own Spartan hands wrote the story for his newspaper, sparing no word of importance to soften the blow. Rarely in fiction or reality are the elements of love and duty more strangely mixed than in this pathetic instance, which we cite to prove a rule of honor.—Editor and Publisher.

We would suggest an interesting list of names to print, those who never give anything to anything. It would be more interesting that one that would give the names of those who give to everything worth while.

A taxi cab driver down in Stubbenville has been convicted for first degree murder, not for killing one with his bus but for shooting his father-in-law. He wasn't even smart enough to take the old man for a ride, but just shot him in front of witnesses. Dum!

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

"What have you done about it?" inquired the fireman to whom a citizen had rushed with the news that his house was burning.

"Oh, I put some water on it," came the excited reply.

"Well, that's all a fireman could do," came the languid reply.

The critics do not have much to bawl about the present community chest campaign. In the first place the secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce is taking the place of previous paid campaign manager, and the solicitors are not only giving their time and making donations themselves, but are paying for their own lunches. In addition, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson has not only given her own valuable time for weeks, but made a big donation and is leading the campaign as chairman still. No doubt the critics will do as they have always done—just one thing.

If we leave our private office door open most any kind of a pest will breeze in. If we shut it and open a window odors of cooking onions, herding and pancakes nearly smother us. Heinz preserve us!

The four-flusher who boasts that he runs things at his house is referring to the lawn mower and the washing machine.

A troop of state police are now quartered next door to the court house in Mercer. This would sound about as scandalous as if a troop were put into New Wilmington. Anyone ever going through Mercer around that court house would wonder where their disorder would come from.

There will be no session of the criminal court in Jefferson county the first of next week. There are no cases up for trial, and the jurors have been notified to stay at home. That ought to please the taxpayers big. Must be a strict temperance community.

LOVE'S EVOLUTION

Upon a time he used to bring me roses.

A ribboned box of candy or a book. Today he brings a colander or meat press.

Or new style nickel-plated wardrobe hook.

Once I doiled up most carefully to meet him.

Conveyed my love with delicate caresses.

I say it now with steak and onion dinners.

A cooking apron covers up my dress.

But romance lingers on in every marriage.

There's more of it than those outside might dream.

Sometimes he brings a quart brick from the drug store.

Sometimes I make dessert that's all whipped cream.

The argument is that athletics are absolutely necessary in college and high schools. When it is remembered that only about one per cent of the students play the games publicly and all the rest go to look on. The exercise of looking on must be the most beneficial. We might be mistaken about this, as we are ignorant of this along with many other things.

A New York lady got a divorce from her husband because he went back to live with his second wife. Having a flock of wives seems to be the chief industry of some birds these days of getting married and getting unmarried.

TODAY'S STORYTELLER

While awaiting her turn at the Palace, Tessie of Eddie and Tessie, novelty song and dance artists, picked up an evening paper. Tessie's eye fell on an item, which under a glaring headline, told of a court decision awarding damages of $20,000 to a chorus girl for a single kiss. Borrowing a pencil she began figuring furiously.

"What now?" her father remarked. When he finished the newspaper story he said: "And now how much does it come to?"

"Exactly $64.745," answered Tessie. "At $20,000 a kiss I see."

"That isn't what I'd make good poor dear. What do you think I am? That's what my income tax would be."

Test of character in newspaper work is whether a man will take a blow on the chin of personal interest and not weaken on the professional principle.

That long silence after an airplane leaves for across the ocean often tells its own sad story.

There are many people who seem to bear charmed lives. They do not seem to get killed while driving automobiles or walking in front of them, they call it jaywalking. It seems that it is simply not their time to die.

Merchant, to new bookkeeper: "All right, then, I'll expect you Monday morning at nine. And, by the way, I trust you're not one of those who are always looking at the clock?"

Bookkeeper: "Oh, dear, no; I have a wrist watch!"

Every house and business place should have a flag displayed next week when the state convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution is held in New Castle. It is the greatest patriotic order of women in the world. Pay them the great respect due them. They will appreciate it.

These six things doth the Lord hate, yea seven are an abomination unto him: A proud look, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, a false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren.—Proverbs VI, 16, 17, 18, 19.

Dad says after a boy gets big enough to wear long pants and can roll a cigarette he puts on knickers.

The automobile and flapper are much alike because they both have the stream-line bodies, all kinds of speed and a smart paint job.

Dr. W. J. Mayo charges the American hospital with "too much salaciousness and too little humanity." He must have been thinking of Chicago, where so-called ethical doctors ousted from their society a famous physician because he counseled "advertising" which told ignorant sufferers where to look for help.

Just what happened in the tumult of Wall street's Black Thursday?

The biggest and costliest price-collapse in the market's history, all observers agree.

Within a few hours valuations of billions were more than the computed wealth of the empire and soon not many years ago—melted away. Fortunes vanished before the eyes of stunned speculators. Thousands of accounts which a few days before had seemed secure dissolved and were swept away in hopeless wreckage.

Substantially the same thing happened into dismal liabilities. Multitudes of families in every section of the country suffered swift disillusion; many of them staggering reverses; some of them virtual impoverishment.

But apart from these widespread and painful results what were the essential economic and social effects?

Did the frantic gyrations of those colossal figures mean all that they seemed to mean? Were billions of actual value consumed?

Obviously, the crash was not the destructive catastrophe that it might appear if one studied merely the gigantic sums which the fluctuations were expressed.

While those billions were vanishing in stock quotations, the tangible properties and the intangible forces which the securities represent remained untouched.

When the market closed there were just as many mills and factories with smoking chimneys, just as many trainloads of commodities speeding along the rails, just as many workers employed, just as many busy warehouses and shops, as there were when the market opened.

None of these had been destroyed

U. S. Chance Of Establishing Freedom Of Seas Discussed

Varied Opinions Are Held As To Possibility Of Establishing World-Wide Observance Of Rights Of All Nations

Is there a possibility that the United States may win a century-old battle for general recognition of "freedom of the seas"? The question is widely debated as discussion of the negotiations with Great Britain on the subject of naval armament goes on. Opinions differ as to the possibility of enforcing such freedom, one editor referring to any possible agreement as another "scrap of paper." Some enthusiasm is shown as to the prospect that the principle may gain a victory.

"That freedom of the seas will ever be an unregulated or unrestrained freedom in war is not expected," contends the ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT. "Optimistic predictions that the old problems is about to be solved may be based on specific plans already under way looking to regulations on which all may agree. On the other hand, they may be based on dispositions of a different sort, so promising in insuring peace and preventing misunderstandings that the old problem will be solved by rendering the principle of the freedom of the seas only negligible in importance. If, during a war, some nations insist that a certain set of ocean-traffic regulations must be served, while other nations insist that only a set differing in many respects is entitled to be observed, great friction and unpleasantness are bound to result."

A similar point is raised by the WORCESTER TELEGRAM, with the statement: "Every nation which is a member of the League of Nations must help to carry on war against an aggressor nation. Therefore, in such a case, there will be no neutrals except among nations outside the League, and even those nations will not be neutrals in the old sense. Modern warfare will demand the strict regulation of their commerce. They will either submit to it, thus taking the side of the League, or take the side of the declared aggressor to the extent of fighting for their freedom of commerce, or withdraw entirely from the sea. The last course would not fit the dignity or the position of the United States, which would therefore be left the alternative of virtually fighting on one side or the other over the matter of commerce on the seas."

"England and America have never agreed well on the problem," recalls the LANSING STATE JOURNAL. "When England has laid a blockade she has insisted that it ought to be respected, based as often the United States has replied that it was none of England's business with whom the United States traded. That was true in the opening days of the World War. It perhaps will be remembered that there is a provision in the covenant of the League of Nations whereby under the League will bring a blockade against a nation the League may deem needs disciplining. But the worry of the League continues to be, 'What will the United States do if we proclaim a blockade?' The question is something of a poser, for it has long been our traditional policy that we would do in the matter what pleases us. The question now is, is the United States to enter into some kind of an agreement whereunder it will act with other nations in case a blockade is believed necessary?"

The final and complete "freedom of the seas" will be something to witness the advent of the PORT WORTH RECORD-TELEGRAM with the belief that "about the only thing necessary for establishment is to practice it."

The HARTFORD COURANT, however, states that "the war taught many things and among them it taught Great Britain that in the event of another war, this American doctrine of freedom of the seas might be her salvation. The feeling of confidence on both sides of the Atlantic," continues The COURANT, "that no war can arise between Britain and the United States has caused the British people to change their traditional attitude toward a right that America has always insisted on—the right to trade uninterrupted with other nations, whether in peace or in war, consistent with her own neutrality. Dependent as she is on the world at large for her sustenance, Great Britain begins to see the necessity of keeping the sea free and open between herself and the greatest of all commercial nations, the United States."

"The triumph of an idea" is hailed by the BIRMINGHAM NEWS, taking note of the fact that "conscious of what may come to pass, America is now resolved to celebrate this significant victory by vouchsafing its fruitful results to all nations, weak as well as strong, little as well as big. In this effort to make 'The United States doctrine of freedom of the seas' universally and uniformly accepted, America is now joined by Britain, the nation which heretofore has insisted upon dissenting from the American viewpoint."

"Perhaps Great Britain and the United States, being the strongest two naval powers in the world," says the PORTSMOUTH, O., DAILY TIMES, "in working out the disarmament problem may also establish a definite policy to be pursued in war or peace as to the freedom of the seas. It is not unlikely, however, that such a policy might, like the Belgian neutrality treaty to which Germany was a party, turn into only a scrap of paper under the complications of wartime necessities."

Considering further the practical aspect of the matter, the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL expresses the view that "under the Kellogg pact this country would not desire to carry on ocean trade with a nation that had violated the treaty," that every signatory power "should stand agreed on the matter of commerce with warring nations." The ASHEVILLE TIMES adds, in connection with this phase: "But will the United States enter into such an obligation even to the extent of agreeing not to interpose should a majority of the nations declare a blockade against a violator of the Kellogg-Briand pact?"

Calming the question one whose settlement "is altogether desirable," the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS comments: "Heretofore Great Britain has insisted on the right, in wartime, to stop neutral merchantmen on the ocean and take from them what may be listed as contraband. The list was lengthened greatly during the World War."

PRAYER AND BUSINESS

If through the business of the day I can but one brief moment spend

Unselfishly to play the friend And help his neighbor on his way

Then I, with better heart, may pray To God for help at that day's end.

If I have put myself aside For one brief moment to bestow

On one who, bowed by care or woe, Asks for the aid I can provide,

Then I, who oft an trouble tried, With better grace to God may go.

But if I count my busy day Above the need I plainly see

Census Takers To Quiz Industries

Seek Information On Number Of Days In Normal Working Week In State

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—For the first time the census of manufactures to be taken early in 1930 will call for information on the practice of Pennsylvania manufacturers with respect to the number of days that constitute the normal working week of their plants, the advisory committee on the census of manufactures announced today in discussing some of the important phases of the census. During the past few years there has been much speculation on the subject, but exact facts of nationwide scope have not been available.

The employment of women in industry will again be a subject of inquiry. While these data were available in the reports of previous decennial censuses, the employees in facories have not been distinguished since 1919 in the biennial censuses. Mechanization has brought about shifts in the character of workers required and it is not now known whether these changes have tended to increase the number of women in factories or otherwise.

Pennsylvania manufacturers will also be asked to give information on the number of shifts per day and the number of hours of labor per week. In addition there will be the usual questions on the number of wage earners and salaried persons, including monthly figures by which employed; the seasonal variations of employment in the several lines of manufacturing; and the growing use of power and power equipment, a subject of interest both to manufacturers and to factory workers.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

WHAT THEN?

A hundred years from now somebody in Pittsburgh, Mass., will open a vault near the World war memorial and will take out some letters. The letters written by President Hoover, Governor Allen, and other men in public life, have just been buried—to be taken up in the year 2029.

This will be very interesting to readers in 2029, but perhaps not important or valuable. Nobody can write much today and be sure it will have any point a hundred years hence. The world moves too fast for that. Problems come and go. Ideas and conditions change. In fact, the hope of civilization lies in a changing world, not in a static world.

RETIRING

Geraldine Farrar, noted opera star, tells the world she will retire when she is 50. She has less than three years to go. Retirement is fine, if you know when. Nobody should retire to be idle. When retirement means devoting your best energies to doing something you particularly want to do, and which it is not possible for you to do in your routine job, then retirement ought to come as soon as you can arrange it. Probably Miss Farrar is unwise, as anybody else would be to announce a definite date of retirement. Who knows now whether the best time will be at 50 or 60 or 70—or ever?

FADS THAT FADE

A headline tells us that "stocking-less fad fades as teachers ignore style."

Teachers who ignore styles are wise. Giving undue attention to the trivialities of style and dress and fads in school gives them an importance which they do not deserve. Fads become issues. The whole town can easily become stirred up. Ignoring a fad is the best way to kill it.

Thus far no football expert has guessed a result correctly. But the season still has more than a month to go, so maybe one of them will hit it right before it ends.—The Roanoke Times.

There is one thing about Afghanistan that will commend it to some observers. They evidently believe in rotation in office there.—The Lowell Evening Leader.

Bo-Broadway

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Eddie Cantor, the local pride of hereabouts, mounted the hustings in Longacre Square a night or two ago to hurl verbiage intended to aid the candidacy of his friend, Jimmy Walker.

"I don't know anything about politics," quoth the inimitable Eddie, "but at odd moments in my life I have delved into the constitution of the United States and all documents, and in none of these have I been able to find any prohibition whereby the mayor of the city of New York is deprived of his inalienable right to wear crack and wear creased trousers."

Eddie may know nothing of politics. But he sho' do know his Longacre Square. Yassam!

LIFE AS IT IS

Some years ago there arrived in New York a young Italian immigrant of artistic talent who, with his wife, sought here a better opportunity for a livelihood and success than their native country had afforded. But welcome and recognition failed them and as the days yielded nothing but refusals of his pleas for employment, the young people found it hard to keep up courage and spirit.

They had used nearly all their scant resources in mere existence. And yet, besides his wife's faithful affection, the young fellow possessed one useful gift—his skill as a wood carver. One day he took out his well-loved set of tools and began to adorn the dull wood of a doorway in the wretched tenement rooms. Before long he had entirely wreathed the lintel and both jambs with leaves and blossoms of an exquisitely fanciful twining vine. Then came the landlord to collect his rent and his hawk's eye fell upon the freshly carved doorway. What vandalism! "Out you go!" he shouted. So the couple flung together their few belongings and fled, evicted, from what had been their nearest approach to paradise in the new land.

What became of them no one knows. The carved doorway turned out to be a piece of craftsmanship of great worth. Naturally the landlord sold it. And thus ended a true story of the east side.

GERSHWIN'S CAREER
George Gershwin, composer of "Rhapsody in Blue," began life as the son of poor Jewish parents in the not-so-artistic surroundings of Grand street, where, to use his own phrase, he was "the toughest kid on the block." At 17 he threw up a promising career as bookkeeper and stalked off to Broadway. His first job there was song-plugger for Jerome Remick, music publisher, at $15 a week and experience. Not satisfied with banging out other people's tunes, he wrote music for himself in his spare time. At 25 he was the unquestioned king of Tin Pan Alley without relinquishing that crown since, since become the darling of even the musical intellectuals. Now, at 31, he has turned his back on Maxie Lane to write a full-length grand opera, based on "The Dybbuk," at the request of Otto Kahn, chairman of the Metropolitan board.

TRUE ENOUGH, BROTHER!
Mack was "moonin' low" to Moran about is bad luck picking winners at the race track.

"How come you always lose at the races and always win when you play cards?" queried the logical-minded Moran.

"Dawg-gone, boy," replied The Other Black Crow, "that's simply. I don't shuffle th' horses!"

NOW BE GOOD, CHRIS!
Chris Morley, whose audiences at his Hoboken theater have been encouraged to add to their own entertainment by cheering the heroes and throwing peanuts at the heads of the revived mid-Victorian melodramas, is coming in for a lot of criticism from play folk who feel that Litty Lad, turned showman, isn't "playing the game." Jane Cowell, the actress, took a fling at him the other day.

"Morley's project," says Jane "though it may have started in fun, is an incubator for bad manners in the theater. What New York audiences need is encouragement to behave themselves. Even the fashionable theater party, coming in during the second act, can be shamed out of existence with enough criticism and comment from intelligent theatergoers."

GREAT IDEA
The New York Theatre Assembly has a great idea by the tail, sponsoring "an intimate theatre where amusing plays will be presented for a selective audience. Its sole purpose is to make theater-going more pleasant—a modest and on the whole, admirable idea.

As Mr. Kipling says somewhere: "Gawd's mercy strike 'em gentle!"

THEIR ANSWER
Is marriage a failure? Ask Pat Rooney, who wrote a song for the celebration of his 25th wedding anniversary that he and Marion Bent are singing joyously, and with every evidence of sincerity, on Broadway these days.

answered that question years ago. It is not. Some folks still wonder if it really does relieve pain. That's settled! For millions of men and women have found it does. To cure the cause of any pain you must consult your doctor; but you may always turn to Bayer Aspirin for immediate relief.

People used to wonder if Bayer Aspirin was harmful. The doctors

Two Rural Routes Ordered Extended

Rural mail routes numbers three and nine out of New Castle have been ordered extended by the United States post office department effective November first, Congressman J. Howard Swick has been advised by postal officials.

Some time ago Congressman Swick requested that such action be taken in order to provide for improved mail service for several additional families, and the post office department, acting on the Congressman's recommendation, has ordered the routes extended.

Under the new arrangement, route No. 3 will care for eight additional farm families and route No. 9 will handle five new families.

Happiness escaped Aunt Kit...until she ended "B.O."

WHAT a pity! She was so interesting, so charming. Yet every one, even relatives, slighted her.

Then came the change. Today there is no happier, more admired woman than Aunt Kit. Let her tell you how easily she ended her trouble—"B.O." Body Odor!

"I should have known better than to take a chance with 'B.O.'"

"But I did seem safe. I didn't realize we can't notice an odor once it becomes familiar. Doctors say pores give off as much as a quart of odor-causing waste daily—even in cool weather."

"Now, with Lifebuoy to safeguard me, my 'B.O.' worries are ended. Its marvelous antiseptic lather purifies so deeply, you feel gloriously fresher than ever—after a Lifebuoy bath."

"We all love Lifebuoy for complexions, too. And it makes us feel so safe, knowing it removes germs. Its pleasant extra-clean scent, which vanishes as you rinse, just tells you Lifebuoy purifies."

The Parent Problem

Be Cordial In Writing To Teacher

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Now is the time when parents write notes to the teacher. They used to get punished for note writing when they were school children. They are safer now.

Don't write only when you are dissatisfied. Write also when things are going to your liking. Say some nice things, not just only ones.

Most parents are very busy particularly mothers who do most of the note writing. It has occurred to me that I could simplify your tasks somewhat if I were to write a few sample notes for you. Here they are: My dear Miss Cole, First Grade:

I want to tell you that Ray likes you very much.
I am glad you speak in such a soft and quiet voice. Ray has told me about it. He is not used to hearing us at home speak loudly or say harsh things.

I am happy that you make your children want to come to school with clean hands and nails. It is surprising how my boy scrubs himself every morning, so that he can pass inspection.

Gratefully yours,
MRS. R. C. COPPERSMITH.

My dear Miss Swift, Third Grade:
I am glad you teach my child to be accurate. Some mothers I know say their children have to hurry, hurry all the time, getting very nervous and much worried. I believe it is better for a child to learn a few things well than to be rushed over many things with no care for precision.

It is fine you are urging the children to go to bed not later than 8, and to eat leafy vegetables. My boy says you award them stars when they say they do certain things at home. I wish you would be so kind as to let me know what these things are, for I know how easy it is for a child to hold up his hand saying he did something you want him to do when he gets rewarded for a right answer.

I hope my child always tells the truth, but he is just a child. If I always knew what it is he is being asked to do in these matters, I should try to help him earn the star without any temptation to misrepresent.

Most cordially yours,
MRS. SARAH M. GELWIN.

My dear Miss Thomas, Fifth Grade:
When Marie came home last evening she said she had to remain after school for fifteen minutes because she had tripped a boy as he was walking up the aisle. Of course she got no comfort from me. I want my child to learn not to annoy other children! She said you did not make her study as a punishment, but make her sit there doing nothing. "It was awful to sit there with nothing to do," was her comment.

I like that way of doing. So many teachers punish children by making them write words, do sums or commit to memory nice gems of poetry. I have always believed that such punishment is bad, because it makes the child hate the very things we want them to love.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. GEORGE L. STONER.

Four Are Injured And Slightly Burned As Tenement House Is Destroyed By Fire

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Forty men, women and children were trapped temporarily today when a spectacular fire razed a Third Avenue tenement house. They managed to reach safety only through the heroic work of firemen, who carried occupants of the dwelling down ladders.

An aged couple and a boy were critically burned. Two firemen suffered broken legs and a dozen others were slightly injured.

Highland Class Has Record Attendance

Hundred And Ten Present At Men's Bible Class On Sunday

Members of the Men's Bible Class of the Highland U. P. church, established a new attendance record at their services Sunday morning, when 110 were present at the Anniversary service.

The class has been engaged in an attendance contest for the past few weeks, which will be concluded on November 10. Both teams were tied yesterday, each side reporting 55 members or visitors present.

Special music was rendered by Richard Johns at the opening exercises, while a brief talk was given by Mrs. J. Wallace Baird of Monmouth, Ill.

Have Special Scout Organization Of Their Own In This City

As the result of the recent visit to this city of Captain Ron Irvin, scout organizer of the Salvation Army in Western Pennsylvania, the Salvation Army now has a patrol of its Life Saving Scouts of the World functioning here and it is hoped that this number may be eventually increased. Ralph Montgomery, a patrol leader of the First Christian church Boy Scout Troop is assisting in getting this Salvation Army patrol to function and until it can get a patrol leader of its own.

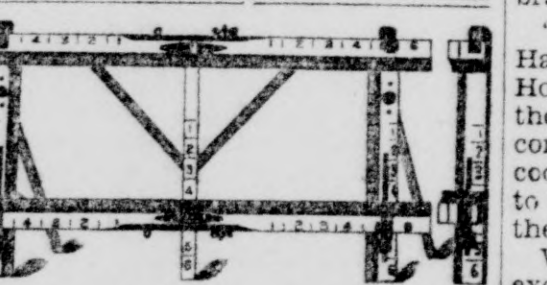

Motorcycle Officer Arrested, Charged With Being Drunk

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A bicycle cop needs steady nerves in this era of automobile speeders and William R. Ellery admitted today he took a "couple of highballs" to brace himself while peddling through downtown traffic.

His arrest and suspension on a charge of drunkenness was the latest development in the maze of scandals being revealed in the police department. Ellery had had no sleep when he mounted his wheel yesterday. He had been up all night with a sick baby and wife. His nerves were bad; his bike unsteady and he erased an unblemished record by "stealing himself" with liquor.

In the good old days there was a pump at almost every corner in town. There still is, for that matter, but it is now a gasoline pump.—The Louisville Times.

After all, the real go-getter is the fellow who starts out looking for trouble.—The Toledo Blade.

PETER, RAN AFTER THEM AS QUICKLY AS HE COULD.

"Very good," declared General Hawk-Moth, "and now, after the Honorable Mrs. Bombyx has told how the eggs are laid, her 'beginning' will complete the story of spinning a cocoon. Only we must all fly over to the mulberry tree, for that is where the silk worms always sleep the best."

Without more ado and in great excitement all the scalewings flew.

"When I have grown nice and fat I shall know that it is high time to hide in the moist earth. I'll spin a cocoon that some say reminds them of a sea shell, and there I'll spend my pupa days. Then I, too, shall burst out as a gorgeous flyer that is the coat of arms of my particular branch of the family."

PETER, RAN AFTER THEM AS QUICKLY AS HE COULD.

"Oh, dear!" said Peter to Sir Butterfly. "I certainly insulted Death's Head's Caterpillar without meaning to. I hope the fellow will not take a real dislike to me. He looks sort of dangerous and he must be at least four inches long and as thick as a man's finger. Will he bite, do you think?"

"No, indeed he won't," said Butterfly. "He is not really angry, only a little bit injured in his pride and he will soon forget all about it. Don't notice him at all."

Local Man Meets Ramsey MacDonald

Also Uses The Flying Route To California And Return, Recently

Alex. Thomas of North street, has returned home after several unusual experiences. He is just home from California, to which state he made the trip over the airplane route. That is he made the trip from this city to California in 48 hours, going by rail to Columbus, O. and then the balance of the way by airplane. He made the return trip in the same manner. He reports that he had a very pleasant trip and that it is the only way to go to California.

On the trip westward he had the novel experience of flying through a severe storm. The bad weather was encountered over New Mexico, and lasted for two hours. However the plane rode through the storm perfectly and landed safely in Los Angeles on schedule.

He also had the pleasure of not only hearing Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England when he addressed the United States Congress and of afterwards meeting and shaking hands with the premier. Mr. Thomas was in the Congressional hall when Premier made his address.

Rheumatism Pains Stop in 7 to 10 Minutes Prove it FREE

I have been suffering with rheumatism pains in my back. I could not get any relief and have tried all sorts of remedies. I saw MUSCLETONE advertised, and purchased a bottle. It soon took all the pains away and today I am feeling fine. I would not be without a bottle of your good MUSCLETONE. Have told no end of people about it.

RICHARD BROWN, 5122 Glover St., Philadelphia, Pa.
When a man has rheumatism so badly that it is downright agony to even move and seems suddenly to regain complete freedom from pain the chances are that he has learned the secret of MUSCLETONE.

Almost a million people now—by word of mouth recommendation—seem to have found complete relief through this new discovery of treatment by injection. So far as the painful part of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, lameness of muscle, bones and joints is concerned you may forget it with the first application. Relief actually comes in 7 to 10 minutes. The photographs above were taken only 30 minutes apart. Chronic cases and those unusually severe will of course require continued treatment for a while but isn't it wonderful that the relief you seek is now so easily obtained?

MUSCLETONE is a new discovery in medical science. You no longer dose the system with violent or nauseating drugs. The treatment is applied directly to the part affected and by injection neutralizes accumulated toxins. Yet it is perfectly harmless. You literally feel the pain leaving.

We urge only that you make this test. MUSCLETONE is now obtainable at any drug store. Buy it today. Use one half the bottle and if you are not amazed return the remaining half to the druggist and he will refund your money. The price is $1.00. Or, if you prefer mail coupon below and a liberal trial treatment will be sent you entirely FREE.

Health Examinations Are Vital Necessity

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A campaign by private physicians to awaken the public to the value of preventive measures in maintaining health has been begun. It was announced today by Dr. Iago Gladston, secretary of the Greater New York committee on health examination.

The importance of a periodic health examination as one of the chief means of warding off sickness will be stressed. The department of health is co-operating with the drive which is being conducted by the private physicians of Greater New York.

The five medical societies of New York will be in back of the campaign, the organizations representing 10,000 practitioners.

"We wish to drive home to the public in general, and to women in particular, the value of the periodic health examination as a means of preventing sickness and checking incipient diseases," said Dr. Gladston. "Thousands of women die every year from tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer and organic troubles. These clude women whose lives might have been saved had they gone to their physicians regularly for health examinations and thus have checked the disease before it had progressed to the point where their physicians were no longer able to help them.

Defense Fighting Hard To Save Fall From Prison Term

Defense Counsel Will Present Motion For Arrest Of Judgement Today

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A minor echo of the Fall bribery conviction will be heard in the criminal branch of the district supreme court where Frank J. Hogan, chief of defense counsel, will present a motion for an arrest in judgment on the former secretary of the interior.

The motion is almost identical with the original demurrer filed in the case which set forth that Fall could not have been in a position to accept a $100,000 bribe from Dohney because the navy department, and not the interior department, had the control over leasing the naval oil reserves.

Hogan's move is more or less of a formality for the record. As the demurrer was denied, today's motion undoubtedly will be also.

Argument on a motion for new trial will be heard Friday, following the expected denial of which sentence will be passed on the ex-cabinet officer and an appeal noted to the higher courts.

Fall was resting somewhat easier today in the seclusion of his hotel, although still confined to bed and showing plainly the evidences of his illness and the shock of his conviction.

Children's Health Class Has Party

Twenty-five children attended the Halloween party given by the children's health department of the Y. W. C. A. Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The party took place in the gymnasium and was an enjoyable affair. Masquerade costumes were worn.

Miss Betty Jane Hulme and Miss Helen Williams won prizes for the best costumes. The afternoon was spent in playing various Halloween games. Later in the evening apples, ice cream and doughnuts were served in the gymnasium.

The old days were much like these, except that kind of stories were kept at the livery stable and that kind of books under the mattress.

benefit of St. Luke's hospital in Cleveland.

Each year about this time the eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania leagues of the different Methodist churches hold a festival for the ingathering of donations of all things usable by the St. Luke's hospital, which is owned by the Methodist church.

Friday evening the booths were erected in the First Methodist church by the members of the Epworth league, they were then decorated and the articles donated placed in the booths set apart for each church. The Epworth league of Wampum then gave an entertainment which consisted of music by a male trio, Charles and Guy Davis and Rev. E. S. Lane, taking part. A pageant was presented by the young ladies of the Wampum Epworth league and the league of the First M. E. church served lunch.

Saturday morning the judging of the booths took place with Mrs. C. G. Farr, Rev. Fenton and Rev. Ruggiero acting as judges. Two churches, Croton M. E. and Epworth M. E. tied for first prize, second prize being awarded to the Wampum league.

Large Audience At Final Church
Army Service On Sunday Evening

Evangelistic campaign conducted during the past eight days in Trinity Episcopal parish by Captains Edward Hurworth and Frank Jameson of the church army, came to a close last night with a congregation attendance that filled the church.

During the service Captain Hurworth expressed the appreciation of himself and Captain Jameson for the splendid co-operation afforded them in the campaign by the rector of the parish, Rev. P. C. Pearson and the vestry and stated that what had been done in the past eight days was in reality but the beginning of greater things along evangelistic lines that would occur within the parish. He said that it was never the general in an army that did the work and the fighting, but the members of the army.

He also expressed their appreciation of the generous response for the work of the army and the many personal favors and gifts extended to them.

Slayer Released, Weds Sweetheart Who Had Waited

Vincent Gaffney, New York
Released From Sing Sing
Weds Childhood
Sweetheart

GIRL WAITED FOR HIM ELEVEN YEARS

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Just like the movies, Vincent Gaffney, killer and gangster, today was on his honeymoon with the childhood sweetheart who waited 11 years for him to get out of jail.

When Kathryn Mowen was 10 years old she used to walk home from school with Vincent. They grew up together in the shadows of the tenements of Tenth avenue in the Fifties. Vincent fought for Kathryn, took her to dances and went to mass with her. When they grew up they were going to get married.

Convicted of Killing
Those were the days when a gangster was a gangster for the pure joy of it. The modern racketeer was as unknown as the radio.

Gaffney was taken in the Gopher gang. He won local glory as a tough and rough lad. When he was approaching 21 he clashed with Charlie Tucker. Gaffney pulled his gun and shot Tucker dead.

They gave Gaffney 20 years in Sing Sing. While waiting to be transferred from the Tombs in New York Gaffney broke through his prison bars and flitting over the houseposts made his getaway.

Detectives figured Gaffney would try to see his sweetheart. He did, and they cornered him on Tenth avenue. A gun battle followed, during which two children were wounded by bullets. Gaffney got away then, but he was finally captured in a dance hall at North Bergen, N. J.

For Good Behavior
Nineteen guards escorted him to Sing Sing. Later they took him to Dannemora in leg irons surrounded by 16 state troopers.

Meanwhile Kathryn was waiting Vincent was just released for good behavior. He is now 32.

The whole neighborhood turned out for the marriage ceremony at the Sacred Heart church in 55th street. It was just around the corner from where Gaffney had killed Tucker.

Those who couldn't get inside the church blocked traffic in the street and slapped Vincent on the back as he came out grinning after the ceremony.

Of course, the bride looked pretty as a picture. But Vincent was not the dashing, handsome figure of his youth entirely. He had grown considerably stouter and there was a bald spot under Vincent's mythical high silk hat which he didn't own nor wear.

Singing Contest Will Feature South Side Hallowe'en Program

Something different from the ordinary run-of-mine Hallowe'en celebration seems to be the watchword of the south side Hallowe'en committee. Not satisfied with providing a list of cash prizes that will undoubtedly attract a crowd large enough to jam the district from corner to corner, a singing contest has been arranged following the parade, Wednesday evening, October 30.

The singing contest will be held on the grounds of the Lincoln-Garfield school and for the best quartet a cash prize of $5 will be given. For the best juvenile singer, a prize of $2 is donated.

The prizes for the parade follow: One hundred kiddies, one dollar each. Best group in the parade (must be five or over in number), a cash prize of $25. Three best couples, a cash prize of $8 per couple. Best Uncle Sam, a cash prize of $5. Best Indian, a cash prize of $5. Best special prizes to be selected by the judges, cash prize of $5 each. These will include odd costumes, pretty costumes and unusual costumes. There is also a prize for the best dressed window on the south side, the prize being donated by Markley Brothers.

The parade will start forming Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock and just as the steel mill whistle blows 8 o'clock the line of march moves out from the corner of Long and Pollock avenues. Marching over Pollock avenue to Reynolds, it will swing down Reynolds to Mill, thence to Long, to Sciota, to Reiber, to Moravia, to Long and back up to the Lincoln-Garfield school house.

Five bands have been secured for the parade, the Croton band, the South Side band, the Legion of Honor Buble Corps, the senior high school band and the Benjamin Franklin junior high school band. Following the parade a street dance will be held. Edward D. Pritchard will be the grand marshal of the parade and he insists upon promptness in starting.

The judges' committee consists of the following: Chairman, Councilman D. O. Davies; Mayor W. H. Gillespie; Councilmen W. T. Burns, W. V. Tyler and Cloy V. Davis; J. H. McIlvaine, Fred L. Rantz, J. F. Rantz, Archie Cohen, Frank F. Gollis, Michael Herman, Mrs. J. S. Klammer, Miss Jean Ferguson. Judges for the window dressing contest, J. F. Connery and DeLace Cole.

The south side Hallowe'en celebration will be even larger than it was last year, according to all indications. Everybody in Lawrence county is invited to participate. In order to not conflict with the uptown celebration which is to be held on Thursday evening, the south side parade will be held on Wednesday evening and as a result should have their own crowd and the crowds that will attend the other celebrations.

Highland Young People Are Hosts

Societies From Other U. P. Churches Guests For Anniversary Meeting

Members of the Highland U. P. church Young People's society were host last night to the members of the societies of the First and Second congregations as a part of their 25th anniversary observance.

Pittsburgh Home Damaged By Bomb

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—One man was blown from his bed, windows in 15 buildings were shattered, hundreds of residents in the "Hill" district were startled here this morning when a bomb exploded in the front of the home of Edward Johnson, a negro.

The force of the explosion wrecked the interior of the three-story brick building and knocked Edward Jones, a roomer, out of bed.

No motive for the bombing is seen by Johnson, he told police.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unpleasant pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets will help save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous gripping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.

Building Work Here Cited As Example

Property owners as well as construction companies are losing money through their failure to make the utmost use of the winter months, according to Prof. C. D. Dannels of the college of industries, Carnegie Institute of Technology.

An example of profitable winter construction is cited by Prof. Dannels in the work done on the Jameson Memorial hospital at New Castle.

"By continuing construction on the Jameson Memorial hospital throughout the winter," said Prof. Dannels, "the construction company in charge of the work benefited by a sum estimated at $31,000. Had winter construction not been adopted, idle equipment charges would have amounted to $500 a month and salaries to $1,000 a month. Over a period of four months this reaches a total of $6,000. Loss on profits for four idle months, based on the yearly construction of $1,000,000, amounts to $25,000, making a total loss of $31,000 on idle crews and equipment."

"With the exception of a very few particularly severe days, concreting on the Jameson hospital was carried on throughout the winter. All aggregates, that is, sand and stone, were heated and the finished work was protected with tarpaulins. Heat was provided by numerous coke-burning salamanders. As a result of the precautions taken the concrete was a quality job."

"As a direct result of this winter construction the hospital was completed fully three months earlier than would have been possible otherwise. When this fact is considered in connection with the contractor's ability to quote lower prices on winter work, the economic importance of winter construction is evident."

The winter construction committee of the Pittsburgh Builders' Exchange is of the opinion that construction will continue here during this winter with an almost negligible slump.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Industries To Render Report In Chest Drive

Workers Will Give Partial Returns At Meeting In Y.

M. C. A. Tuesday Noon

COLE EXPLAINS IDEA OF CAMPAIGN

Partial reports will be received from the Community Chest workers who are engaged in their campaign among the industries of the city, together with the teams who are canvassing the business establishments of the downtown district, at the report meeting which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. at noon tomorrow.

It is expected that a final report will be rendered by the teams from the various agencies of the Community Chest who have been engaged in soliciting a select class of donors in the group which annually contributes between $25 and $50. At their report meeting last week this group reported subscriptions of $4,400, with many people remaining to be seen.

Ask Day's Wages

Workers in the various industries of the city, who are being canvassed in the most systematic manner yet achieved, are being asked to contribute one day's wages to the Community Chest and the response has been most encouraging.

To date, the finest example of wholehearted support has come from the school teachers of the city, whose contributions will average a day's wages.

According to James W. Cole, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is campaign manager of the Community Chest, the Community Chest idea is to administer scientifically whatever funds are contributed, so that there shall be no duplication of benefits and so that the amount contributed will be as widely distributed as possible to all in need.

The plan is to have only one campaign for funds annually, eliminating excessive demands for money from many various institutions and to save considerable time and expense among those who annually do this work.

The Community Chest tends to develop a sense of what the strong owe in justice rather than pure charity to those who are or may become the weaker ones in life's race. The Community Chest tends to decrease the overlapping and waste among its beneficiary agencies. It gives these agencies a sounder basis of support. It protects the community from fraud and misrepresentation.

The Community Chest is an economic asset in the work of social agencies since it relieves the workers, whether paid or volunteer, of the strain of expending time and strength which under the old plan of separate campaigns had to be given to raise funds for the work. Now this army of workers may spend their entire energy to the administration of their agencies while the funds—the ammunition for the working army—are provided by the citizens of the community.

The Community Chest plan develops community spirit. After all, the true measure of people's greatness is their ability to unite in a common sympathy, a common thought, and a common action. That, as we understand it, is the real meaning of community spirit. The more complete the co-operation of its citizens, the greater is the power of a city. For this reason, too, then the Community Chest of New Castle merits willing and generous support.

For several weeks public-spirited men and women have been at work organizing the campaign and soliciting funds. During the present week a second step in the plan is to be inaugurated and the Community Chest workers will make their appeal to those who have not yet made their contribution. We are making a plea that this work done at their personal expense of time, strength and money, may not be made an unnecessarily difficult task. We are asking for a cordial welcome and as generous a response as possible—contributions made not on the basis of charity, but of justice—or, if you will, a thank offering for the blessing vouchsafed that enable us to be the contributors to the relief of those less fortunate though not the less worthy perhaps within our community family. And we make this appeal in the faith and confidence that the citizens of New Castle do feel themselves members of a great family and as such will welcome this opportunity to manifest their generous impulse to lend the ready hand of aid wherever it is needed.

Stomach - Liver and Colon Sufferers make this test FREE

All I want is your name and address [not one penny of your money] so I can send you a generous two weeks' supply of a simple preparation which produced wonderful results in my own case. I had suffered for 20 years with a complication of stomach, intestinal, liver and kidney troubles, consulted many physicians and spent a small fortune doctoring. Finally I began experimenting on myself and after many disappointments I perfected a simple, drugless compound which freed me from these distressing ailments. At the age of 77 I am in better health than at 40 and doctors are amazed at my splendid physical condition, and I am so grateful I want every sufferer to try this method at my risk.

Send Name and Address Now

I will ship you a full size treatment by return mail, all charges paid. I ask nothing in advance—there will be no C. O. D. or any other charges to pay. Use the treatment 10 days. Then when you find it is helping you—when you are convinced that here at last is the treatment you have long wished for, send me only $1.50. That's all I ask and I don't know how I could make a fairer offer. Don't send a penny, not even a stamp, but rush name and address today. Address: PROF. CHAS. H. FOURMAN, Norwood Pharmaceutical Co., Dept. 129, 2041 W. 35th St., Chicago.

Highland Church Celebration Ends

Twenty Fifth Anniversary Program Concluded On Sunday Evening

Large Audiences Hear Former Pastors During Day's Services

Highland United Presbyterian congregation, Highland avenue, brought their twenty-fifth anniversary celebration to a close with two impressive services Sunday.

At 11 a. m. Holy Communion was celebrated with about 450 persons participating. Twenty new members were received.

Dev. D. C. Fulton, former pastor of the church gave the sacramental meditation, taking as his theme, "This Do In Remembrance Of Me." Rev. J. H. Hutchinson, who was first pastor of the church gave the Thanksgiving prayer. Communion was administered to the congregation by the two former pastors assisted by members of the session.

The evening service, which convened at 7.45, was opened with an organ recital by Miss Sarah Sarver. The sermon of the evening was presented by Rev. J. H. Hutchinson, invocation was given by Rev. D. C. Fulton with prayers offered by Rev. S. E. Irvine of the First U. P. church and Rev. A. J. Randles of the Second U. P., whose congregations joined with Highland church in closing these celebration services.

Rev. C. J. Williamson, pastor of Highland church expressed his thanks at the morning service to those who had in any way helped to make this anniversary the great success that it was. He expressly thanked the New Castle News for their co-operation in giving so much publicity to their services.

FIXING CROSS-OVER
Charles O'Brien, clerk, department of streets today said that street, Miss Sarver. The sermon of the evening was presented by Rev. J. H. Hutchinson, invocation was given by Rev. D. C. Fulton with prayers offered by Rev. S. E. Irvine of the First U. P. church and Rev. A. J. Randles of the Second U. P., whose congregations joined with Highland church in closing these celebration services.

A memorial to Thomas Hardy is to be erected at the western entrance of Dorchester, England.

Colored Man Found With Much Liquor

Is Taken By Surprise And Claims That It Is Just Lying Around Everywhere

Detective John Young and Thomas Lynch were in the Mahoning avenue district Sunday on an investigation tour when they came upon Clarence Killan of 391 West Bridge street, with two quarts of liquor under his coat.

When arrested, Killan was very much taken by surprise and attempted the alibi that he had found it in some tall grass in the seventh ward district, that it just apparently "grew" up in that district.

This morning he was charged with violation of the Snyder act before Alderman Hamilton by Chief of Police C. C. Horne. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was remanded to the county jail in default of bail for the December term of court.

Overheated Heater Sets Home Afire

Just after Chief Lynn and the Pirsch truck from Central station had departed for New Wilmington to assist in extinguishing the fire which destroyed a big apartment house, a call was received from box 83, which took No. 1, No. 5 and the A. truck to 413 Lyndal street, where an overheated furnace had set fire to the home of Arthur Ponzi.

The heater pipe was defective, and when a heavy fire was placed in the furnace, it ignited the wall nearby. The damage was approximately $25.

BINGHAM STIRS SENATORS WITH HIS ACCUSATIONS

lution of censure against Bingham later in the day.

The climax came when Caraway challenged the whole Republican side of the senate to defend or uphold Bingham's action, only to find every Republican senator present remaining silent in his seat. No such rebuke to a senator has occurred within the memory of present senators.

Play Bingham's Action
Both Caraway and Blaine flayed Bingham's action in arranging with E. Kent Hubbard, president of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association, to "borrow" Charles L. Eyanson, a paid lobbyist, to act as his secretary. All the time Eyanson served Bingham he was paid a $10,000 a year salary by the association although for five weeks the lobbyist was carried on the Senate payroll.

Blaine characterized this arrangement as a "dirty, slimy trial" and declared Bingham's defense a "mere smoke screen." He also charged the Connecticut senator with having a "superiority complex" toward his senatorial colleagues and did his best to shatter that complex by adding "I do not mean to exaggerate his unimportance."

Accused Bingham
Caraway charged Bingham with concealing facts and declared his defense was merely "a duplication of the defense made by fall, Doherty, Sinclair and Daugherty" when the latter were charged with corruption.

Both Bingham and Caraway passed the "lie" indirectly. Bingham first accused Caraway of telling something that "was not true" and Caraway later retorted that the stories of Bingham and Eyanson were in direct conflict and urged them "to get together and straighten out the truth."

The debate amazed veteran senators. Nothing quite like it has happened in decades. Both Bingham and his accusers indulged in personalities and none observed the senatorial courtesy that in the past effectively blocked personal attacks.

Throw Smoke Screen
Blaine was the first to reply to Bingham.

"The senator is attempting to throw a smoke screen across the slimy, dirty trail mapped out designedly from the office of the senator from Connecticut to the office of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association," said Blaine.

"If any truths were withheld the senator from Connecticut is responsible. Question after question was asked him and he doggedly refused to answer them directly except by long statements approaching speeches. Whatever has befallen the senator, he alone is responsible."

Blaine jeered Bingham's explanation that Eyanson was placed on the Senate payroll "to put him under the Senate's discipline."

"That purpose was not to put Eyanson under discipline but to get him into secret sessions of the Senate Finance Committee."

Blaine referred to Bingham's attitude toward other senators.

Charges Committee Framed
WASHINGTON, October 28.—Rising to a question of personal privilege in the Senate today, Senator Hiram Bingham (R) of Connecticut, charged that the Caraway Lobby Investigating committee was "framed" for political purposes to damage the Hoover administration.

The Senate sat silent and amazed as Bingham launched into one of the most virulent attacks heard on the floor in years, in defense of his action in placing Charles L. Eyanson, employee of the Connecticut Manufacturers association in the Senate committee during framing of the tariff bill.

"Police Court Methods"

He charged the committee with using "police court methods" and the "tactics of criminal lawyers" in subjecting him to cross examination when he voluntarily appeared before it to defend his actions.

Bingham charged Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, with making "misstatements" in attacking him after presentation of a partial report of the Lobby committee to the Senate on Saturday.

In assailing the committee, he charged that one member used a capitol policeman as a chauffeur to drive him to a western state last summer.

Assails Blaine

"I demand that the senator name him—I know who he is referring to," shouted Senator Blaine (R) of Wisconsin, rising angrily to his feet.

"Very well, it was the senator from Wisconsin," said Bingham.

"I'll reply later," said Blaine.

"I had not supposed that there was so much unfairness in a group of senators," said Bingham. "I had not supposed that for political purposes, to damage a New England senator and friend of the administration that they would go to such lengths."

"I was asked the same question a half dozen times by one member of that committee when I appeared before it, in the hope that I would contradict myself—much as a criminal lawyer tries to trap a criminal."

Bingham said that the Caraway report was submitted to him before it was presented and that "in spite of many inaccuracies, in view of its general fairness I had decided not to make a reply."

"I did not know that the senator from Arkansas would attack me personally and the Connecticut Manufacturers association by twisting and twisting of evidence, by implication and occasionally by misstatement, corrected a few minutes later by expression of doubt."

Was In Doubt

"I was so amazed that I was in doubt whether to reply. I recalled a statement made by friends when I appeared before the Lobby committee. They told me that it was framed against the administration and advised me not to appear before it."

Bingham frequently charged that the investigating committee was singularly framed against any one supporting the administration. He pointed out that it was composed of two Democrats—Caraway and Walsh, Montana—two insurgents, Borah and Blaine and "only one Republican," Robinson (R) of Indiana.

"This committee was four to one against the administration," he complained, "and against any administration senator."

Bingham complained, too, that Edward A. Cooley, representative of the Massachusetts Fisheries Association, "had not been investigated as a lobbyist."

"They only investigated the fact that he had tried to annoy me," said Bingham.

Defends Eyanson

Bingham said he had spoken once to Cooley but when the latter tried to influence his vote on fish rates had declined to see him again.

"That's my attitude," said Bingham, "toward the large number of lobbyists, who try to waste our time," he said.

Bingham (time and again flayed the investigating committee.

"This committee was far more interested in damaging the reputation of a senator, far more interested in politics, in preventing New England industries from receiving the tariff relief they require than in investigating lobbyists," he declared.

"The committee knew he was not a lobbyist in the ordinary sense of the word," Bingham protested. "He never approached any senator and never tried to fix any rates. He only gave me information."

He said the committee's action in bringing in the name of Henry A. Rorabach, Republican National committeeman from Connecticut, proved it was playing politics.

He also complained about the committee's attitude toward his present of $1,000 to Eyanson.

"Had I not sent him a cent, the committee would have raised a stench for having accepted his services without compensation," he declared.

"Every bit of flimsy testimony has been twisted against me. In no sense has the committee even been fair. In no sense has it been assumed that I had honorable motives."

"They were too clever to charge me directly but indirectly and by inference, intimation and innuendo, they used every flimsy pretext to attack me and to attack my state and the Connecticut Manufacturers Association."

Bingham declared there wasn't "a word of truth" in Caraway's assertion that Bingham had taken Eyanson's first pay from the senate "and put it in his (Bingham's) pocket" without saying a word. When Caraway rose indignantly to his feet protesting, Bingham refused to yield the floor.

Bingham heatedly denied Eyanson had given out secret information concerning rates. The committee, he said, referred to knowledge of arms manufacturers concerning rates on shotguns—and said that the supposed secret knowledge was discussed 13 days after the bill was made public.

He discussed at length the phrase employed by President Hubbard of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association in a letter to Eyanson saying "we have got more than we bargained for."

This was a New England phrase. Hubbard meant Eyanson had been loaned to Bingham longer than was intended, he said.

Velvet is truly the "princess" of fabrics for the new winter season

—An indefinable beauty lingers in the soft folds of velvet—such velvets as you will find at Strouss-Hirshberg's... These qualities yield themselves gracefully to the subtle lines of the moulded silhouette, and possess a rare loveliness of coloring.

Chiffon velvets drape perfectly in frocks of the new silhouette —For evening frocks, and gowns for formal afternoon affairs, there's no more gracious fabric to choose than chiffon velvet. Here are two especially charming groups:

—at $6.95

—at $2.95

—A regal quality of all-silk velvet, in shades of black, cuckoo brown, and Independence blue... 40 inches wide.

—Brown, blue, hunter's green, black, wine... these are featured tones in this array of chiffon velvets... 40 inches wide.

Costume velvets are charming for dresses of less formal trend

—Softly tailored "dressmaker suits," school frocks, and smart little jackets for children... these are a few of the uses of our costume velvets. By all means, examine these groups:

—at $2.95

—at $1.95

—Quite a superior quality of costume velvet... in Byrd blue, black, chestnut brown and navy blue... 40 inches wide.

—In Delft blue, black, navy, chestnut brown, cardinal, and hunter's green, these velvets offer a 40 inch width.

Vogue patterns show "the Paris way" of achieving smart effects

—Vogue patterns bring directly into your sewing room the lovely, the authoritative styles of each season. And instructions for making are so clear, that it is difficult even for a beginner to make a mistake.

The new laces are lovely!

And combine charmingly with the winter velvets!

—The touch of feminine grace sought in present-day frocks is often best bestowed by a lace collar and cuff set... a lace jabot, or frill. Exceptionally smart effects are to be discovered in these groups:

Real lace neckwear $2.95 to $8.95

—Combinations of filet and Baby Irish laces, or of filet and Venise patterns make these collars and cuff sets very lovely... especially appropriate for costume velvets.

Exquisite neckwear of hand-made laces $5.95 to $16.50

—Collars with cuffs, panels, capes, etc... of Venise and Alencon lace, or Irish combined with filet... in ecru, and the rich, new tones of brown.

—Lace collar and cuff sets in smart new effects, $1.00 to $3.95.

Laces by the yard

—From these you can create collars and panels of your own designing.

—Alencon Patterns in lace, 3 and 3 1/2 inches wide, in ecru and the new sundown shade, $1.00 and $1.50 yd.

—Venise Patterns in lace, 1 to 3 inches wide, come in ecru at 59c to $2.50 yd.

—Metallic Laces, in gold or silver, 1 to 5 inches wide, especially appropriate for evening frocks, 50c to $1.50 yd.

Get ready now for Hallowe'en

—Be prepared for the night when goblins are out and fun reigns supreme! Here is Hallowe'en equipment.

—Costumes for children and adults, in various styles, 59c to $3.50.

—Costume Cambric, in red, yellow, black, green, brown, and orange. Yard, 15c.

—Hallowe'en Prints, for costumes and decorations, yard 27c.

—Cutouts, 5c, 10c and 15c

—Invitations, 3c

—Tally Cards, 3c

—Place Cards, 3c

—Stickers, box, 10c

Empty House Yields Big Liquor Supply

Sunday while circulating in the Mahoning avenue district, about 1:30 p. m., Detective John Young and Officers Lynch, Schuller, Longstreth and Criswell searched an empty house in the rear of 308 Mahoning avenue. There the officers found 2 1/2 gallons of moonshine in gallon glass containers and 25 empty five-gallon tin containers, in which there had been liquor at one time.

The police are investigating as to possible ownership of the liquor.

Negroes Engage In Cutting Affray

Henry Trimble and Steve Brazier, gentlemen of color, engaged in a battle in the South Beaver street district last night and when Detective Logan and Officers M. J. Young and Dukes happened on the scene, Trimble is alleged to have caused the severe knife wounds from which Brazier was suffering. Both men were taken into custody and Brazier was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Trimble was today remanded to the county jail to await the outcome of the injuries of Brazier.

Bingham declared there wasn't "a word of truth" in Caraway's assertion that Bingham had taken Eyanson's first pay from the senate "and put it in his (Bingham's) pocket" without saying a word. When Caraway rose indignantly to his feet protesting, Bingham refused to yield the floor.

Bingham heatedly denied Eyanson had given out secret information concerning rates. The committee, he said, referred to knowledge of arms manufacturers concerning rates on shotguns—and said that the supposed secret knowledge was discussed 13 days after the bill was made public.

He discussed at length the phrase employed by President Hubbard of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association in a letter to Eyanson saying "we have got more than we bargained for."

This was a New England phrase. Hubbard meant Eyanson had been loaned to Bingham longer than was intended, he said.

Week End Record Of Auto Mishaps

Numerous Cars Are Sent To Repair Shops As Result Of Collision

NO ONE SERIOUSLY HURT, REPORTS SAY

Numerous accidents were reported to the police over the week-end, in which no person was seriously injured but in which numerous cars were damaged to a greater or less extent.

Fred W. Tomlinson of Cleveland, O. reported that he was enroute south on East Washington street near Butler avenue when a boy, Jim Call, aged 6, broke away from his mother and ran out into Washington street in front of his machine. The boy was knocked down. He was taken to the nearby office of a doctor, where it was found that he had not been seriously hurt.

R. M. Hay of New Castle R. D. No. 9 reported that he was enroute south on Croton avenue at East Washington street and a man was crossing Croton avenue to go west on East Washington street. Mr. Hay blew his horn but the man kept on going and would not stop. The car just grazed his coat.

Is Knocked Down.
A DeSimone of 503 Friendship street, reported that he was going west on Water street near the Mill street bridge when a man named Duffy of No. 331 Francis Place, walked out into the street and into his car and was knocked down. Mr. DeSimone took Duffy to a physician, where it was found that he had not been injured and then took him home.

J. Ackworth of 717 Superior street reported that he was going to turn south on Mill street from Lutton street, when a car bearing Ohio license 801-621 going north on Mill street hit and damaged his machine.

T. E. Miller of R. D. No. 3, reported that he was going west on East North street at Mercer street, when the car of Martin J. Uhrin of 445 Court street, going north on Mercer street, collided with his car. Both machines were damaged.

Vance Veach of 225 Englewood avenue reported that he was enroute north on Mill street at North street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license D2-344 going the direction ran into the rear of his machine, damaging both.

Edenburg Car Damaged.
H. H. Sherrard of Edenburg reported that he was enroute north on Liberty street at East Clayton street when a car bearing Pennsylvania license E79-442 going west on Clayton street, hit and damaged his car.

Aloysius Glosier of 145 South Lee avenue reported that he was enroute south on Norris way at Sycamore way when a machine bearing Pennsylvania license 0-4970 going east on Sycamore way, collided with his machine. Some damage was done.

Mrs. Alla B. Hanna of 313 South Ray street reported that she was enroute west on East Washington street and making a right hand turn onto Butler avenue, when her machine hit a truck bearing Pennsylvania license U10-553 driven by Mr. Graziana of Butler avenue, going west on Butler avenue. The damage was slight.

Patsy Juliano of 1111 1/2 Croton avenue reported that he was driving the truck of Nicholas Juliano west on Croton avenue at Fleming way as G. P. Mason of 922 Croton avenue, drove his machine south on Fleming way and out onto Croton avenue. The machines came together and some damage was done.

Hits Open Door.
L. C. Matthews of West Moody avenue reported that he was enroute north on North Croton avenue as a machine bearing Pennsylvania license 714-147 was parked facing east on Croton avenue. The door of the latter machine was open and the Matthews machine hit and damaged the door.

Officer Criswell of the city police department reported that he was driving the city police car east on East North street and Miss Mae Johnson, of 504 Laurel avenue had her car parked on the south side of North street where parking is prohibited. The police car bumped the Johnson machine, causing slight damage.

Earl J. Baker of New Castle R. D. No. 7 reported that his machine was parked on Neshannock avenue across from the East Street market as a car bearing Pennsylvania license 262-182 pulled from the curb and hit and damaged his machine.

John Bodnor, Jr., reported that he was enroute east on West Washington street at South Jefferson street as the car of Clayton Rudolph of Volant was going north on Jefferson street and they came together and were damaged.

F. L. Pitzer of New Castle R. D. No. 6 reported that he was going east on North street at Mercer street, when an automobile, the license number of which he did not secure, going east on North street, hit and damaged the rear of his machine.

Joseph Scungio of 524 East Lutton street reported that he had his machine parked on North Liberty street when a Ford coupe Pennsylvania license 943-908 going north on Liberty street, ran into the rear of his machine, then turned over. Both machines were damaged but no person was injured.

During Absence Of Others Takes
All Kinds Of Valuable Articles

George C. Streiner, who conducts a rooming house at 17 East Falls street, reported to the police Sunday that a new roomer, who gave the name of Clarence Love and his place of residence as Butler, Pa., had on Saturday afternoon between 1 and 5 o'clock, during the absence of the others from the house, helped himself to valuable articles belonging to others and then made his escape. He came to the place on Saturday.

The articles missing include a bangle valued at $140, a wrist watch valued at $50, a lady's wrist watch and two ladies' wrings. He had two suits of blue and tan colored clothing and a leather topcoat when he came. He left his cap, which showed it had been purchased in New Kensington. He is described as being about 23 years of age, five feet six inches in height and weighing about 140 pounds.

Bugle Corps Will Hold Rehearsal

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory, will hold their final rehearsal this evening, in preparation for their appearances this week in the two Halloween parades which will be staged on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Wednesday evening, they will appear in the South Side parade and Thursday evening, will be seen in the procession to be staged uptown. All members of the corps are asked to be present at the rehearsal tonight.

There will also be a final meeting of the dance committee this evening, in preparation for the big Halloween dance to be held at the Cathedral Friday evening. A number of novelties have been planned for the dance, which will be one of the biggest held in some time.

Why Fat WHEN SO MANY FIND IT EASY TO REDUCE

All can see everywhere that countless people have found the right way to fight fat. Slender figures now prevail. Excess fat has largely disappeared. Mark the people you know who in late years have gained new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, by combating fat.

One great reason lies in the discovery that most fat people have an under-active gland. Its failure to control nutrition permits too much food to form fat. Modern physicians, in treating obesity, combat that cause.

Their method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. Each box contains the formula, also the reasons for the good results. People have used Marmola for 22 years—millions of boxes of it. And the results have come without abnormal exercise or diet.

Why retain your excess fat when so many have ended theirs? Go try their method—try it now. Get Marmola, read the book in the box. Take four tablets daily, as directed, and watch the changes that occur. Do this in justice to yourself, to please your family and friends. You will be delighted.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is not will gladly order for you.

Harry Nelson Is Honored Saturday

Harry Nelson, former well known member of the New Castle police force, on Saturday afternoon and evening observed his 75th birthday with an informal reception at the home of his son, Sergeant D. T. Nelson, 240 West Moody avenue, which was attended by scores of his former associates in the police department, friends and relatives.

The reception was held during the afternoon and also during the evening and the guests were served with refreshments. Mr. Nelson was remembered with numerous gifts of value and usefulness and greatly enjoyed the occasion as did those who participated in the same.

Naval Day Being Celebrated Today In Washington, D. C.

Patriotic Societies And Navy Have Arranged Fine Programs For Today

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Washington celebrated Navy Day today because Theodore Roosevelt's birthday, selected for annual observances by the navy, came on Sunday.

Patriotic societies and the Navy have arranged programs. The capital will get its first view of the new all metal ship the Navy's ZMC-2, and may see the Los Angeles.

At Bolling Field, ten naval officers will jump from a Ford Transport one after another, landing in line down the field. Other acrobatics also will be performed by naval aviators.

On Saturday morning, the girls of the Minnehaha Troup of Girl Scouts completed the baby articles they have been making for the Needlework Guild.

They will have a Halloween party next Saturday night at 7:30 in the Sons of Veterans' Hall in the City Building. The Hiawatha Patrol has charge of decorating; the Pocahontas Patrol of the menu; and the Eagle and Nokomis Patrols of entertainment.

The regular meeting will be held on Saturday morning, with Bonnie Christman in charge of the tenderfoot work; Miss Reis of the second class work and the Captain of the first class.

Temple Club Dances Attracting Crowds

The New Castle Temple club, which has functioned for many years in connection with the social activities of the I. O. O. F. in this city, and which has been conducting its dances all summer at Ellhurst, has transferred its activities for the fall and winter months to the I. O. O. F. Hall on North Mill street.

It will open the present fall and winter season on Wednesday night at the I. O. O. F. Hall on Mill street with a masquerade dance and the indications are that it will be largely attended.

The club plans to hold dances every Wednesday and Saturday night in the same place during the balance of the fall and winter season. An excellent orchestra has been secured for the season and the dances will no doubt prove very successful.

Sombody might produce a classic called "Ten Nights in a Speakeasy," if anybody could last ten nights.

How devout this age will seem to future archaeologists who dig up a temple on every corner.

Revival Services At Hoover Heights

The Rally Day services, which also marked the opening of revival services at the Hoover Heights Tabernacle yesterday were well attended and the largest attendance of the fall was had by the Sunday school.

Special music was rendered and the pastor preached two stirring sermons and in the evening his theme was "The Animal Crouched at your Door." His remarks were based on Cain's rejection and God's dealing with him, which was handled in an interesting manner. The speaker urged his hearers to take Christ into their lives.

This evening Rev. Keegan will be present and give musical numbers, both instrumental and vocal. The sermon theme will be "Life Provided".

ELLWOOD HIGH LOSES TO ALIQUIPPA HIGH 7-0

Game Is Stubbornly Battled By Both Teams In Beaver County Town

Lone Touchdown Comes In Third Period—Fumble Costly

By TONY PASTA
Special News Correspondent
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 28.—Buckling up a well balanced and fighting team, Ellwood City high school's gridders traveled to Aliquippa on Saturday, where they met defeat for the first time this season at the hands of Harding High by the score of 7-0. It was a tough battle for the Leemen to lose after having won four consecutive contests. This was the first time away from home for the blue and white.

It was a close battle throughout and no scoring took place until the third quarter, when the opponents crossed the line. Both teams were playing a hard game and maintained this spirit during the entire fray. For some time it appeared that the contest was going to be a scoreless tie.

Stars in Contest Markovich and Smith were the outstanding stars for the winning eleven, and Justice and King stood out for the blue and white. Markovich's general field work for Harding was a feature of the battle and Justine was especially effective in punting for the Tubers. On the line Roco performed well for the Leemen, while Maslanik and Reibich played in first-class fashion for the opponents.

Aliquippa's lone touchdown came in the latter part of the third session when they recovered a fumble on Ellwood's 35-yard line after the Tu-bers had blocked Aliquippa's punt in the previous play. Smith carried the oval across the line with a pretty end run for almost 20 yards. Johnston hit the line to score the extra point.

During the first quarter neither team progressed towards scoring, as the ball kept going back and forth by the punting method. Both elemens made the same number of downs during the first frame of the battle, Justice was doing some nice punting for the blue and white and had an edge of Markovich's kicking.

At the beginning of the second session Aliquippa punted and the kick was blocked, but the red and black recovered. They were soon forced to kick and Ellwood did likewise when they failed to net any yardage. On this play following the acceptance of the punt Harding high fumbled, but again recovered. Failing to gain, the opponent kicked and were soon in possession of the pigskin when they intercepted a pass. This did not benefit them much, as the whistle brought the half to a close. Neither team had made a substitution during the first half of the tilt.

At the beginning of the second half Ellwood's men seemed to recuperate and appeared to have more punch.
Aliquippa kicked off and Ellwood almost fumbled, but recovered. The Tubers were unable to gain any ground and decided to kick. Pastin followed it up and recovered the oval when Harding fumbled. This was a nice break and the Tubers were on the opponent's 35-yard line. A penalty of five yards suffered by the blue and white kept them from making a first down after a pretty pass from King to Gross had netted about eight yards. The Leemen lost the ball on downs to Aliquippa immediately and kicked out of danger.

Ellwood failed to gain and punted.
It was a poor kick and the opponent was given the ball on their own 35-yard line as the pigskin went out of bounds. A pretty pass from Markovich to Johns netted 20 yards, but they were soon forced to kick when they failed to advance. Ellwood rushed in and recovered a blocked kick.

Maslanik rushed in on the first play and recovered a fumble. This break cost the blue and white a touchdown, for it was from this point that the red and black began their march to victory. Having attained the ball on the Tubers' 35-yard line, the Lippe machine started to advance. Johns, Smith and Markovich ran the ball, but did not make quite enough for a first down. On the next play Markovich hit the line for a first. Then came the crushing blow as Smith skirted the end for almost 20 yards to cross the line. Johnston hit the line for the extra point.

Lee made a desperate attempt to come back strong and sent in two subs, Panno and Frisk. The third quarter came to a close as Justice tossed a pretty one to Panno which netted 15 yards. Frisk tore off six and King made two more. A pass was incomplete, so Justice punted.

Harding's punt was blocked and recovered, but they kicked again on the next play. A pass from King to Neff netted a first down and the Tubers started a march down the field. Justine and King netted another first down. The ball was now within less than five yards of scoring distance and Ellwood failed to score, as the Lippe machine formed a concrete wall which could not be pierced.

This was the only real threat made by the Tubers to score and it was their only chance to cross the line.
The game soon came to an end with several exchanges of punts. When the whistle blew the opponent was advancing toward the goal line at a rather rapid pace and may have scored if the game had been a few minutes longer.

Couch Lippe presented a strong eleven that was deserving of the well earned victory. His line charged low and fast and the backfield gave wonderful interference. These leads realized what it meant to win and fought hard against the blue and white. The reserve material of the red and black is good and was partly proven by the performance of Murphy and Wilkins.

Little reason can be attributed as to why Ellwood lost. Was it stage fright because of the first game away from home? Perhaps one very good reason can be given without really making an alibi. The field was a very rough and hilly one and at various times the game was stopped to put spectators off the field. It is without a doubt the poorest field in the Beaver valley section.

Hundreds of local fans followed the blue and white to Aliquippa and a continuous line of cars could be seen from the game carrying local rooters home from the contest.

On next Saturday the local eleven will be idle, but will enjoy themselves as guests of Pitt at the Pitt-Ohio State game. This is to be a big day for a large crowd of Ellwood rooters who expect to attend because of the celebrating of MacMurdo day as a respect to Jim MacMurdo local boy, who is playing tackle for the Pitt machine. Special preparations are being made for the occasion and a gala day is looked for.

Congregation Fills St. Luke's Church As Mission Opens

Rev. Delbar W. Clarke Reads
Questions, Answers Same And Makes Inter-cessions

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 28.—The preaching mission at Saint Luke's Episcopal church began last night with a service which was attended by a congregation which filled the church. The missioner, the Rev. Del-bar W. Clarke, began the service by reading and answering the questions which were left in the question box, and then making the intercessions requested. There followed an instruction on the church, as the instrument which Christ "organized" to bring about the establishment of His Kingdom, one of its functions being to give to the world the New Testament Scriptures in which the words and deeds of Christ are enshrined, and then to preserve these Scriptures down through the centuries, and finally to interpret them.

The scriptures were read by Rev.
Joseph R. Routledge. There was also in the congregation the pastor of the Russian Orthodox church and some of his parishioners.

Rev. Clarke chose as his sermon topic "The Perils of Civilization" taken from the words of commission to the twelve apostles, and stated that modern applied science has given us more comforts and luxuries than Queen Elizabeth or any writer of fairy tales ever dreamed of.

Tonight at 7:30 Rev. Clarke will preach on "The New Social Morality."
The services for Tuesday are: Women's conference on "The Home" at 3:00; Children's service at 4:00, and Evangelistic service at 7:30. All are welcome.

Harry J. Rutter Dies Suddenly At Mill Today

Mill Worker Succumbs To What Is Thought To Have Been A Hemorrhage This Morning

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 28.—Harry J. Rutter, aged 35, died suddenly this morning while performing his duties as mill press operator in the Steel Car Forge company, about 7:45 o'- clock.
While a full doctor's report on his death has not been obtained, it is thought that his demise was caused by a hemorrhage. He is survived by his wife and resides in Wurttemberg.
He had been with the Forge company for the past seven years, and his abrupt passing is mourned by his many friends and co-workers here.
Funeral arrangements are not complete.

Powder Keg Blast Injures Three In Mining Community

(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 28.— Three persons are recovering from injuries and five houses are in ruins at Boomer, a near-by mining town, today following the explosion of a keg of powder.
Mrs. Bertha Marandy, Mrs. Oxie
Howell and the 4-year-old son of latter were injured when they were caught in the Howell home when the stored blasting powder let loose as fire of undetermined origin broke out in the closet holding the powder.
All of the houses, burned in the fire which followed the blast, were owned by the Boomer Coal and Coke company.

To the Voters of the City of New Castle

As the day of election draws near I feel it a fitting time to call the attention of the City voters to my position on the various subjects that will come before the next council. A careful study of the conditions that exist convinces me that the greatest drawback to the successful operation of city affairs is due to lack of ability in those appointed or elected to the heads of several of the City Departments.

The main pressure in the Police Department seems to be for more policemen rather than more attention to business by a smaller force.
There are two ways of meeting a stringency in financial matters. One is to increase your income and the other is to decrease your expenditures, and the decrease in expenditures is the only way that seems open to the City of New Castle.

As to the Sanitary Sewer System I believe the troubles will be over if it is put in the condition and working order as called for by its designer. A sewer inspector who would look after storm sewers and see that they were kept open would go far toward solving the storm water troubles.

Whether the bond issue carries or not I believe strict attention should be paid to spending funds of the City and getting something tangible for the expenditures by cutting down on the pay roll and getting value for what funds are spent. I believe there will be plenty to take care of all necessary up-keep expenses.

I am opposed to issue of bonds at this time as I cannot see any advantage to the property owner, but rather a very marked increase in taxation. The great majority of small property owners are very anxious to sell and get out of the City. Whenever it is shown that any substantial industry will locate in New Castle I will be in favor of any necessary additional expansion in bonded indebtedness with the indication of something to stabilize the real estate values.

If elected to the next council it will be my aim to have placed at the head of the different departments, men qualified for the position by experience and temperament, and who will make an honest effort to give to the City a service equal to the compensation they receive.

JOSEPH W. HAHN, Candidate for Council.

Aviation Industry May Undergo Probe

American Society For Promotion Of Aviation Explodes Bombshell

Three Largest Aircraft Organizations In Country May Be Looked Into

By HOMER H. METZ
International News Service Staff
Copyright, 1929, International News Service
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The American Society for the Promotion of Aviation exploded a virtual bombshell in aeronautical circles when it announced the inception of a campaign that has as its purpose a congressional investigation of three of the largest and most influential organizations in the aviation industry, namely, the Aircraft Manufacturers' Association, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce and the National Aeronautic Association.

According to Thomas L. Hill, president of the society, the campaign is a result of the disclosures made in the recent lobby investigation in Washington, in which Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, president of the National Aeronautic Association, has been a central figure.

Urges Investigation
Hill has sent a letter urging the congressional investigation to Senator T. M. Caraway, chairman of the Senate lobby investigating committee. This letter, the contents of which have been revealed exclusively to International News Service, reads as follows:
"The publicity given by your committee to the activities of Senator Hiram Bingham serves to confirm rumors and impressions existing in aviation circles that the presence of Senator Bingham as head of an aeronautical society has been only to act as a mouthpiece of a group of aircraft manufacturers who, since the days of 1917-18 when they fattened on government, have tied up the government aircraft contracts through political and financial connections so that today hundreds of independent aircraft manufacturers throughout the country are denied the opportunity of competing for government work."

Interlocking Interests
"An investigation of the workings of the Aircraft Manufacturers' Association, the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce and the National Aeronautic Association will show an interlocking of interests which serve only a small group of men who in 1917-18 so mishandled the aviation interests of our government that only by the rawest methods of the Daugherty system under the Harding regime were they saved from federal prison."
"An honest and thorough investigation of this situation at the present time will save the government billions of dollars in years to come and should immediately break up a system of disbursement of government aircraft contracts. Senator Bingham's affiliation with the Aircraft Manufacturers' Association, which is maintained through the National Aeronautic Association should be subject to immediate investigation."

Facts In Possession
Hill declared that his organization is in possession of facts that will shake the aviation industry, as it is constituted in this country today, to its foundations if the congressional investigation is held.
The American Society for the promotion of Aviation will be remembered as the organization which recently proposed the introduction of a bill asking for the appropriation of $40,000,000—the price of one battleship—to be devoted to the purchase of airplanes for civilian flying clubs.

Committee Invites Hill
Washington, Oct. 28.—Thomas L. Hill, president of the American Society for the Promotion of Aviation, will be invited to testify before the Senate lobby investigating committee on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. E. Hillard accompanied her son, Rev. Archie Hillard, to his home in New York state, on Tuesday.

city for Promotion of Aviation, will be invited before the senate lobby investigating committee this week to explain his charges that a group of aircraft manufacturers have "fattened" on government contracts. Senator Caraway (D) of Ark., announced, "I think Mr. Hill is entitled to a hearing and he is welcome to come before the committee any time after Wednesday," said Caraway.

"These are serious charges," said Senator Walsh (D) of Mont., "and it is the duty of the committee to inquire into them."

The committee members showed great interest, but declined to comment on Hill's charges that Senator Hiram Bingham (R) of Conn., as president of the National Aeronautic Association, had been "only a mouthpiece" for the aircraft concerns getting government contracts.

P. H. C. Launches Social Season

Opening Affair To Be Halloween Party On Wednesday Evening

With the social season fairly launched in New Castle circle No. 5, Protected Home Circle, nothing has been left undone to make the Halloween party, to be held on Wednesday evening, October 30, just an introduction to the many social activities to be carried out throughout the winter season which will include the popular dances, card parties and excellent programs for the "good of the order."

The committee on arrangements for the Halloween frolic on Wednesday night include W. J. Shirey, Roy Erwin, George W. Wyman, Harry Hammond, Gladys Erwin, Edna Crane, Grace Howard, Margaret Hammond, A. L. Conn, Mildred Rodgers.

Throughout the evening Halloween refreshments will be served and prizes awarded for the best costumes on the floor, for of course the event will be a "querade."

The regular session of the circle will be called to order promptly at 7:30 o'clock and the president requests officers and members to be present at the sound of the gavel.

GAS TROUBLED HEART; FEARED SHE WOULD DIE

New Medicine, Ten Herbs, Only Thing That Relieved Ills, Lady Claims

The great and constantly increasing popularity of Ten Herbs in New Castle and vicinity is no accident. To succeed so splendidly as Ten Herbs has, a medicine, must have exceptional merit—must be as represented.

MRS. JULIA BLUM

This new compound is relieving thousands of men and women of this section of such health troubles as stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general weak, run-down condition. Ten Herbs has remarkable tonic properties—its ten wonderful natural ingredients cleanse and invigorate the whole human system. No wonder so many ailing people are purchasing Ten Herbs at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where this famous preparation is being introduced.

"I had indigestion so badly I hardly knew where to turn for relief, but fortunately I tried Ten Herbs and it gave me satisfactory results," was the recent statement of Mrs. Julia Blum, 332 Ziegler Ave., Butler, Pa. "Gas troubled my heart and caused terrible smothering spells—many times I feared I would die. What little I ate did not seem to do me much good. I would bloat and have severe burning pains in my stomach. Nervousness caused me to wake up at all hours of the night. Severe headaches and dizzy spells came on me, and spots would appear before my eyes. I had severe pains across my back and under my shoulder blades, and cramps would come in my feet and limbs. Nothing that I tried gave me relief from constipation."

"A friend told me about Ten Herbs, and I started taking your medicine. It helped my stomach so much that I found I could eat anything without being troubled with indigestion, gas, bloating, or heartburn. I became free of water brash and the burning pains in my stomach. My nerves were stronger, and dizzy spells disappeared. I began to sleep soundly all night, and felt rested when I got up in the morning. I was no longer troubled with spots before my eyes, or pains in my back. Cramps left my feet and limbs. Time and again I have praised Ten Herbs to the skies, and I shall continue to do so in the future."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington Street, this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Thousands Of Bunnies Are Unaware Of Doom

Sentence Sermons
By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

COMMON SENSE—
Is just an accurate balancing of all the other senses.
Must be uncommon or it would not cause so much comment.
Is what we use after all the experts have failed.
Will always have a better market than undependable genius.
Is not a talent but an achievement.
Goes on a vacation when anger assumes control.
Is the thing we think we have which we wish other people had.

The biography of a navy diver has just been published. Down the ladder to success.—The Champaign News-Gazette.

Black rats, believed to have arrived in ships from the Mediterranean, were recently caught in England.

Five more days of life for thousands of rabbits. If rabbits had foresight, they would be sitting around dejectedly, with drooping ears. But they don't and so they are romping merrily in woods and fields.
November 1 will mark the beginning of the small game hunting season, and as there is no big game in Lawrence county, it means that rabbits will be especially unlucky.
When New Castle was first settled large gray wolves were numerous and howled nightly on the hills surrounding the town. They came careening over the hills and through the valleys in ravenous packs and the unlucky sheep or pig that got in their way was devoured in a moment.
Deer and black bears were also very common, according to historians. The last bear seen in the place was killed by Daniel Hendrickson, Joseph Townsend and Jesse DuShane, in 1804. It weighed 400 pounds.
But that was long ago. An occasional deer is seen in this county. But rabbits and squirrels, there are plenty. And hunters—there are plenty of those, also.
One half the world may not know how the other half lives, but this does not apply to apartment houses and narrow streets.—The Harrisburg Telegraph.

Many Stocks At New Low Levels

Violent Shake-Out In Market Sends Prices Downward On Big Board Today

SELLING ORDERS SWAMP CLERKS

By W. S. COUSINS, International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Another violent shake-out in the stock market swept prices of the well known speculative shares in a seething whirlpool to the lowest levels on the movement, wiping out completely the effects of the "bankers support" for the market and smashing values of leading stocks from 10 to 35 points.

At the first lap of the opening bell, the flood of selling orders, dammed up temporarily by the efforts of the bankers and support when coming into the market by the bankers pool, broke out with renewed violence. First prices of the new week showed declines of 1 to 7 points, but before the noon period the market leaders were breaking from 10 to 35 points in a steady downward downpour of orderly liquidation.

Buying demand for even the best of investment stocks dried up and the pools and big bulls stood aside, refusing to lend any aid whatever to their favorite shares, at the end of the third hour General Electric showed a loss of 4 1/2 points at 256; Standard Gas was down 17 1/2 points; Westinghouse down 25 points; Johns Manville down 23 1/2; United States Steel took a sheer drop of 10 points to 193 and Bethlehem crashed to 98.

Ticker Hour Behind
The whole mechanism of the market was thrown out of gear by the crash of liquidation and speculative selling which poured in from all sections of the country. Transactions up to the noon period aggregated 3,135,000 shares, or at the rate of an 5,250,000-share day. There was no section of the market in which the devastating effect of unsupported selling was not seen.

The bankers were called into conference in the early afternoon, when the situation on the Stock Exchange appeared to be in need of a guiding hand. Not the slightest sign of a rally had appeared up to that time and many of the best stocks in the listed board were selling close to the 1929 'low' levels. A critical situation was developing which clamored for a guiding hand.

With the ticker an hour behind at the end of the third hour, bulletins from the floor of the stock exchange showed prices were solidly at the bottom. General Electric at 255 showed a loss of 42 points for the day and 148 points from the high of the year. Westinghouse lost 29 points today at its midday price of 150. Standard Gas and Electric lost nearly 30 points at 118 1/2 and Columbia Gas was down 14.

To Change Auto Parking Rule On North Street

Councilman Clayton Reeves Tuesday will request city council to order that automobiles be parked on the south side of North Street between Neshamock avenue and East street and that parking be banned on the north side.

A portion of the south side of the street was torn up by the New Castle Water company and the department of streets is having difficulty keeping it in condition as traffic operates over the south side while cars are parked on the north side which has a brick pavement.

CHECK LOST MANY WEEKS AGO; FOUND

Check of W. W. Sweet issued September 21 by a local concern and for $57.72 and lost by Mr. Sweet at the time, has turned up, having been cashed by the person finding it. It was cashed when the man offering it, made a purchase in the McMillin drug store in the Seventh ward and then made his getaway with the cash given him in exchange. The man passing it is said to have been 25-30 years of age, five feet nine inches in height and weighing 160 pounds.

Bankers Pledge Market Support

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN, International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Coincident with a sharp break in prices on the New York Stock Exchange today, bankers met hurriedly in the offices of J. P. Morgan and Company, directly across the street from the Exchange. Among those present was Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, and a member of the pool of bankers who pledged themselves to support the market in an emergency.

The market had been slumping badly, but almost immediately it was shortly after 1 p. m.—prices began to recover. United States Steel which had dropped 10 points to 193 1/2 came back to 198.

George Whitney, tall, dignified member of the Morgan firm, suddenly appeared on the floor of the Exchange and began buying favorite standard stocks, including U. S. Steel. Almost magically the sick market became convalescent.

Newspaper men covered on the Morgan office. Thomas W. Lomont, senior partner of the Morgan company, said he had no statement to issue. Another partner in the firm told reporters "the situation does not warrant the issuance of a statement."

Shortly before the bankers took the situation in hand—they had done the same thing during the upheaval in last Thursday record-breaking market—a wave of selling, which had lasted throughout the forenoon had sent prices down to a very low basis.

General Electric had fallen 43 1/2 points to 254; Westinghouse was selling at 150, down 26 1/2; Radio 47 1/2, down 10; Montgomery Ward 62 1/2, down 12 1/2; Johns Manville 134, down 26; American and Foreign Power 79 1/2, down 28 and American Tel and Tel 246, down 20.

Orders had been coming from all parts of the country to "sell." Bearish professionals were bringing further pressure to the market.

And then it was that Whitney, apparently the emissary of the bankers, appeared on the floor and began to buy right and left.

The Story Of The World War
151—Pershing's Plan Of Action

ON REACHING FRANCE IN JULY, 1917, GENERAL PERSHING FOUND THE ALLIED WAR LEADERS GREATLY DEPRESSED OVER THE SITUATION ON THE WESTERN FRONT. THEIR ARMIES HAD SUFFERED APPALLING LOSSES, AND THEIR BEST EFFORTS TO BREAK THE GERMAN TRENCH BARRIER SEEMED FUTILE.

TO CONSERVE THEIR MANPOWER, THE FRENCH AND BRITISH LEADERS WERE PLANNING TO FIGHT ON THE DEFENSIVE IN ELABORATE TRENCH SYSTEMS UNTIL A GREAT AMERICAN ARMY COULD BE BROUGHT TO FRANCE.

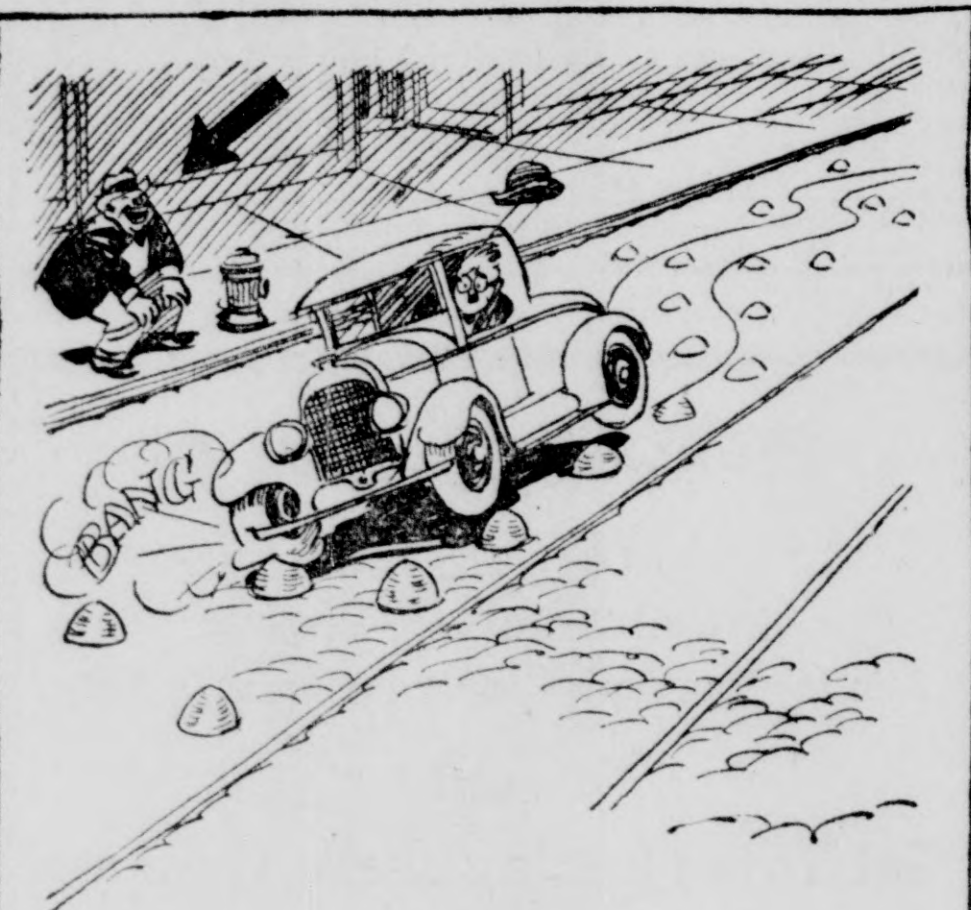

GENERAL PERSHING WAS CONVINCED THAT A DECISIVE VICTORY COULD NOT BE WON BY DEFENSIVE TACTICS. HE BELIEVED THAT ONLY BY A VIGOROUS, RELENTLESS OFFENSIVE COULD THE GERMANS BE DRIVEN FROM FRANCE. THE VAST RESERVES OF MEN REQUIRED WOULD HAVE TO COME FROM AMERICA. IN JULY, 1917, PERSHING CABLED THE WAR DEPARTMENT, URGING THAT AT LEAST 1,000,000 MEN BE SENT TO FRANCE BY MAY, 1918.

IN OCTOBER, 1917, PERSHING ISSUED A GENERAL ORDER THAT AMERICAN TROOPS BE TRAINED CHIEFLY FOR OFFENSIVE WARFARE. HE PINNED HIS HOPE OF VICTORY ON THE RIFLE AND BAYONET OF THE AMERICAN INFANTRYMAN. THE ORDER READ IN PART, "AN AGGRESSIVE SPIRIT MUST BE DEVELOPED UNTIL THE SOLDIER FEELS HIMSELF, AS A BAYONET FIGHTER, INVINCIBLE IN BATTLE."

Firpo And Burns Hie To Training

Pacelli Meets Mazzeo; Severio And Reno Return; Lance tackles Bodda And Murphy Clashes With Thomas; Interest Centers In Firpo-Burns Battle; Fans Will Probably Make Rush For Seats Beginning Tuesday; Best Looking Middleweight Scrap In More Than Year.

By ED FRITZ

One week from tonight fight fans will travel to Jolly bowl to see Johny Burns and Henry Firpo say it with gloves in a battle scheduled to go 10 rounds. Burns recently returned from Oakland, Cal., and upon his entry into Chicago announced a willingness to cross gloves with Mr. Firpo. Hearing that Mr. Burns wanted to take on his protegee, Jimmie Dunn agreed to let his Louisville slugger oppose Burns and the match is now a reality.

Burns was brought here in an introductory way with Jack McKenna as his opponent. He cuffed the Nova Scotian around for eight rounds, opened up in the ninth and tenth sessions and his boxing was a revelation. Firpo slammed Jack McKenna at Cleveland, battle Harry Fuller a couple of times and with the trio of bouts as a tuning up process declared his readiness to take on Burns.

There has been no middleweight bout excepting the Perotta-Firpo battle which has captured the fancy of the fans as has the Firpo-Burns embroilment. As Burns is an Italian-American and Firpo is a German-American it looks as though it will be another battle in which the fans will not be satisfied unless one is knocked out. As the contest means considerable financially, the middleweights are keying up hard for the fight.

Burns returned from Oakland, Cal., to Chicago recently and resumed training. He will have had two full weeks of preparatory work beneath his gloves. Firpo has been fighting regularly and is in splendid condition. Burns is training at Jim Mullen's Chicago loop gymnasium. Firpo is getting into condition at Jimmie Dunn's headquarters in Cleveland.

The weight agreed upon is 160 pounds. Firpo will not have any difficulty making the poundage as he weighed only 157 3/4 for Harry Fuller. Burns will have to work hard to get down to 160. When he cuffed Jack McKenna to a nice victory he tipped the beams at 162. Jimmie Dunn has insisted that the bout be fought at the middleweight limit.

Romeo Pacelli will fight Martin Mazzeo, Cleveland, at 128 pounds and Louie Severio, Meadville, will again take a chance with Al Reno, at 133 pounds. These battles are to go six rounds—unless a knockout prevents the full fight.

Romeo outpointed Joe Boychan here and Mazzeo, a former New Castle boy (no relation to Pete or Vito of Cleveland) begged for an opportunity of showing his home town folk just what he could do against the shelly kid of the south side. As Al Reno flopped Severio three times before Louie landed the sockdolager he asked ed for a return chance and he hopes to prove that his defeat was something of a fluke.

Frankie Lance, New Castle bantamweight, will step against Tony Bodda, Cleveland, who gave Marshal Crochette a splendid fight here. So far Frankie has had things rather easy but Bodda will give him a good fight. Billy Murphy of Ryantown, who has scored three knockouts, will go against Harry Thomas, Cleveland, in a four-round bout at 152 pounds. Every bout on the card looks like a whale for action.

Bellevue High Here On Friday

New Castle High Engages Bellevue At Franklin Field On Coming
Friday Night

By "BUGS"

Bellevue High will furnish the opposition to Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh's Bearcats at the Franklin stadium on Friday night. The game will commence at 8 o'clock.

New Castle High after dusting off California High last Friday night will work hard this week to prepare another fine aerial attack for the Bellevue game. Coach Bridenbaugh has installed a fighting spirit in the players. Westinghouse High would have a hard time in repeating that 20 to 13 score.

Two Sweet Halfbacks

As a result of their sterling work last week in racing several hundred yards against California High, Coach Bridenbaugh is going to give Russell Hannon and Dickie Thomas a lot of attention this week. New Castle has a sweet pair of halfbacks, and they are going to prove valuable in the bigger game to come this year, especially the Greensburg, South High and Washington tilts.

Every good backfield man must have interference and this week Bridenbaugh is going to work out a cast-iron system for bowling over the opposing players once Hannon and Thomas dash away for the goal-line. This Bellevue game should be just a good "tune-up" for South High Youngstown the following week.

The New Castle players came out of the California romp unscathed.

Central Players Form Stove League

Will Meet During Winter; Keith
Van Fossen Is President

Members of the Central Presbyterian baseball team met at the home of Keith VanFossen on Main street Friday evening and formed a club to be known as the Central Presbyterian Stove League.

The purpose of the club is to get all the players possible gathered in a group and get them interested in baseball.

Plans for the coming winter season were discussed and arrangement of meetings were planned. Following a general discussion the following officers were elected for the coming season:

President—Keith VanFossen.
Secretary—Francis Uhle.
Treasurer—Lee Campbell.
Following a business meeting a social hour was included in the evening's entertainment and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Keith VanFossen and Mrs. Cliff Patterson.

Rocco Matched To Box Arthur Flynn

Emmett Rocco, Ellwood City heavyweight, has been matched to box Arthur Flynn at Boston, November 22 on the same card that will find K. O. Christner boxing Jim Maloney. It is probable that Rocco will box at Cleveland, November 8 as promoters are looking for an available opponent according to Joe Cumo.

Thiel Is Winner Over Westminster At Greenville 6-0

(Special To The News)

GREENVILLE, Pa., Oct. 28.—Westminster college obliged Thiel college with real southern hospitality here Saturday afternoon when the United Presbyterians dropped a hard 6-0 grid game to the Lutherans in the feature of the Thiel homecoming day celebration.

The Titans, weakened by injuries sustained in the Grove City game a week ago, played with a patched-up lineup and although the United Presbyterians gained as much ground as the Lutherans and seemed strong on the line at times, one little slip and the Thielites had a touchdown and victory.

Coach "Dike" Beede started James Perrin, freshman from Avella, Pa., at right half in place of Haldy; Tweedy at right end in place of Brownlee, and Paul Campbell, Pittsburgh, at left half in place of Dible. On the first play of the game Richard Fuller, regular left guard, was kicked on the head and was carried off the field in a dazed condition. On the very next play, Pipoly was hurt and had to be removed from left end.

First Half Even.

Neither team seemed able to do much in the first half, the 30 minutes ending with no score. Westminster registered five first downs to three for Thiel in the first half. Both the first and second quarters were little more than punting duels between Harry Michaels, Westminster quarter, and Schilling, Thiel right halfback, with the honors about even.

Paul Campbell, former Westinghouse high star of Pittsburgh, added the best individual bit of action to the first half when he intercepted a pass from Schilling on the Westminster 45 and raced 35 yards to the Lutheran 20 just before the half ended. Campbell shook off three Thiel tacklers but could not get away from Schlemick, Lutheran safety man.

The play during the first two periods was rough, penalties were frequent and injuries caused at least five men to retire from the game. Franks, Thiel left guard, was carried from the field in an unconscious state; Mitchell, who substituted for Wardle at quarterback for the Lutherans, turned his ankle in an effort to get away from Tweedy, and Bane had to be removed from the Lutheran left end after a pile-up.

Brownlee had to replace the injured Pipoly at left end for Westminster early in the first period. Morrison had to go in at right guard for the dazed Fuller, and Cleveland had to relieve Morrison at guard after Morrison had his chin cut. All in all, it was one of these parlor affairs.

Thiel Gets Breaks.

The second half opened up with the Westminster team getting its one "break" of the afternoon. After Michaels had kicked off to Wardle on the Lutheran 30, Thiel was penalized 15 yards for holding. Here Schilling punted to Michaels, who returned the ball to midfield to the Lutheran 40. But Brownlee, Deacle and Campbell could make but five yards in three attempts, so Michaels had to punt. He aimed the ball well, dropping it out of bounds on the Thiel 18.

The fortunes of war were for the Lutherans a minute later when Schilling punted to Perrin, Titan right half, who fumbled on the Thiel 49. Palselli, substituting for Bane at left guard, recovered for Thiel. Myers, Lutheran fullback, made four through the line. Schilling made a scant yard through the line. Myers heaved a pass to Wardle for nine yards and first down, placing the ball on the Titan 36.

Myers made four in two attempts and then tossed a pass which was incomplete. On the next play Schilling threw a long pass which Myers carried to the Titan five before he was run out of bounds. Myers failed to gain through the line. Wardle made four, carrying the ball to the Titan one-yard mark. Myers dove over for the touchdown on the next play. Schilling's pass for the extra point was knocked down.

Titans Lose Chance.

Frankton kicked off to Dombrowski on the Titan 41. The big tackle fumbled when hit and Thiel recovered on the 40. Schilling lost two and then picked up six. On the next play Tweedy, Titan end, intercepted Wardle's pass on the Titan 22. Perrin and Deacle lunged the ball eight yards and then Michaels passed to Brownlee for a 12-yard gain. But Perrin fumbled on the next play and Thiel recovered. Westminster took the ball on downs on its own 22 a few minutes later, but Brownlee dropped the ball after catching a pass from Michaels and Thiel recovered at midfield.

Schilling immediately punted to the Titan 10. Perrin and Deacle in three tries made 12 and first down. Michaels threw a pass to Brownlee for 13 and first down. Haldy replaced Perrin and punted to Schilling on the Thiel 40, a kick of 60 yards. The ball changed hands through fumbles and return punts throughout the rest of the final period, and while the Lutherans registered four first downs to one for the Titans, the Lutherans were unable to get beyond the 20-yard mark.

The game ended with Thiel in possession of the ball on the Westminster 20.

Billy Wallace Hopes To Climb

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Billy Wallace, Cleveland's lightweight hope is scheduled to launch a local ring campaign tonight which he hopes will earn him a title battle with Sammy Mandell. The Ohioan is to face Patsy Ruffalo of Mount Vernon in the main bout at the St. Nicholas arena.

Titans Must Rebuild For Bethany Contest At Home On Saturday

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 28.—A general revamping of the varsity lineup and the problem of replacing three regulars will occupy Coaches "Dike" Beede and Johnny Lawther at Westminster during the early part of this week.

As a result of the rough game with Thiel at Greenville Saturday a game as hard and disastrous as the Titans have had in a number of years, Joseph Pipoly, end; Richard Fuller, guard; and Glenn Rehfs, tackle, are ill injured and cannot hope to get into the lineup against Bethany here on Saturday.

Fuller is still somewhat dazed as a result of being kicked on the head in the first play of the Thiel game. Until today Fuller could remember nothing of what had taken place since the Grove City game a week ago. He is improving but is in no condition to play.

Pipoly was clipped by two Lutheran players in an end-around play which netted 22 yards. On the next play he was hurt even more. He was unable to walk after the game and is still bruised and sore. Tweedy and Brownlee will be drilled for the end positions. Brownlee replacing Pipoly at left end.

Glenn Rehfs, freshman tackle, was injured early in the Thiel game but stayed in the contest without a murmur until he was removed toward the end. He exhibited one of the best brands of grit seen on Titan lines in the last four years.

Bob Deacle, fullback is also on the injured list. It is thought however that the Sharpville line-plunger will be in shape for the Bethany game. In the last three games Deacle has been able to gain consistently. He

COVENANTERS ON SHORT END 34-0

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 28.—Coach Charlie Berry's big powerful Grove City College gridgers rode through the Flenniken coached Geneva College eleven here Saturday at Reeves Field. The final tally was 34 to 0.

Ed Walecki and George Kammer raced wildly up and down the Geneva field. The stocky Walecki scored a pair of touchdowns. Munson, a healthy sized Grove City fullback plunged over for a pair of markers, and Rapenovic a sub for Walecki accounted for the other touchdown. The Crimson clad warriors had 23 first-downs to three for the local sons. Fumbles at critical points held Grove City from scoring in the first quarter. The half found Grove City leading 13 to 0.

The Berry line was impregnable. The Geneva backs could not gain consistently. Ewing, Preece and Knapp were stopped repeatedly in thrusts at the forward wall.

It was the worst defeat sustained by Geneva in the past several years of gridiron activity.

Al Marsters Is Leading Scorer

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The one-man race for eastern individual football scoring honors continues. Al Marsters is the one man. The Dartmouth flash tallied twice on Saturday to run his total to 102, some 48 ahead of second-place Ralph Hewitt of Columbus.

Booth of Yale, who scored all 21 points his team made against Army, is in third position with 54. Davidowitz of Lehigh holds fourth place with an even fifty points.

Blue And White Harriers Point To Important Meets

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 28.—Westminster's varsity cross country team, idle since October 5 because both Grove City and Thiel cancelled meets after abandoning the harrier sport this fall are drilling hard for two important races within the next two weeks.

As a preliminary feature to the Bethany grid game at New Wilmington Saturday the Blue and White harriers will race Coach Guy Halferty's Carnegie Tech distance men over the five and one-half mile Fayette course. Tech was defeated by the West Virginia harriers at Pittsburgh Saturday but has a well balanced team.

A week from Saturday the Westminster hill and dale runners journey to Morgantown W. Va., where the Mountaineers' first harrier team will be met as a feature of the Detroit-West Virginia football game. In their first distance race against Tech Saturday the Mountaineers showed that even though novices they have ability. Four West Virginia runners finished among the first six.

The last meet on the Westminster harrier schedule is with Geneva at Beaver Falls November 23. This meet will decide the Tri-state championship. Westminster has won the championship two years in a row. If the strong Covenanters team is defeated at Beaver Falls the conference cup will become the permanent possession of Westminster.

Chaney High of Youngstown hung a 7 to 0 defeat around the necks of South High Saturday in a terrific battle at the South High stadium. It was a startling upset for Coach Rusty Ashbaugh and his South gridgers. They meet New Castle High in Youngstown on November 9.

The big powerful Greensburg team swished their way to another victory on Saturday taking Ligonier High to the tune of 26 to 0. This Greensburg team looks like the "berries" this season, they have yet to taste defeat. The New Castle High team meets Greensburg here on November 16.

Twelve Football Teams Remain Unbeaten After Tough Games Saturday

Picking Leading Team In Country This Year Is Going To Be Tough Task

Notre Dame, Pitt, and Dartmouth Are Class Of Eastern Schools

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The football capital of America might be found today among the stately spires that rise above the campus just outside South Bend. It might be the tiny hamlet they call Hanover, N. H., nestling in a setting that is almost primitive. It might be beautiful Los Angeles; Somber, half-toned Pittsburg; historic Knoxville; quaint, old New Orleans; the eastern outpost of the northwest, Minneapolis.

It might be any of these and it might be none. For while Notre Dame, Dartmouth, Southern California, Pittsburg, Tennessee, Tulane, Utah and Minnesota remained undefeated in week-end games that were all-consequential, so did Purdue, Texas, California and Detroit, while Cornell drew a blank altogether and so preserved its record intact.

Dartmouth Looks Good
All we have to go on today is that Dartmouth, having ruined Harvard, must be conceded to be one of two leading teams in the east and that the other is Pittsburg; that Southern California's 7 to 0 victory over Stanford gives it most of the authority on the coast; that Texas looks the part as the best team in the Southwest; that Tulane's disposal of Georgia Tech stakes it to an equal ranking with Tennessee in the south; that Purdue, with another victory over Chicago, is in sole charge of the big ten at the moment and so on.

Included among the eccentrics, so to speak, is the fact that Notre Dame survived another of its big moments, this time beating Carnegie Tech by a touchdown; that Nebraska and Missouri, having played a 7 to 7 tie, must look to the remainder of their schedules for the big six championship and that Utah, winner over Colorado Aggies, still is the best bet in the rising Young Rocky Mountain Conference.

Navy Tie Scores
With the exception of Nebraska, beaten by Pitt, and naturally Missouri, these form the 100 percent group in the football lists, although California, in view of its scoreless tie with St. Mary's actually belongs with Fordham and Davis-Elkins, co-stars in Saturday's tie; Boston College, W. and J. Illinois, Ohio State, Missouri, Southern Methodist and Villanova.

Tie scores have depreciated the championship status of this coterie and, in some cases, have disposed of them altogether. It was Ohio State's scoreless tie with Indiana on Saturday, for instance, that makes possible Purdue's position today. It was one of the major up-sets of the day, of which there were three others. The only one that really counted was Army's remarkable defeat by Yale. The others saw Princeton tie the Navy and Florida beat Georgia, after losing to Tech the week before.

Good Teams Licked
Carnegie Tech, Stanford, Chicago, Harvard and the Army were beaten for the first time while the tie suffered by Ohio State was almost as disastrous. It meant that, instead of fighting Purdue and Minnesota for the big ten lead, it was embroiled with Illinois for the right to remain the runner up. The Buckeyes actually were outplayed from the moment that Faunce headed into the open for 45 yards early in the game and they deserved no better than they got.

Notre Dame's first victory in three years over Tech was made possible by Karcis' weak punt in the third period, yet Tech itself probably will concede today that the better team won. So probably will Stanford in the case of Southern California, since the Trojans held the Warner outfit for downs inside the 5-yard line in the first period and thereafter dominated the game. California, winner over the Olympic Club by 21-19, is the only coast team between U. S. C. and the title now.

Albie Booth Stars
It was one-man defeat that Yale gave the Army, which was 13 points to the good when Albie Booth came on the field and eight points to the bad when he left. Albie scored them all. This 140-pound whiffet handled the ball, one way or another, on every play and climaxed his performance with a 70-yard run for the winning touchdown. Marsters beat Harvard, although he just he admitted to a football team scored 20 points for Dartmouth in the final period. In all, Dartmouth has scored 256 points this season against the lone touchdown that Harvard got on Saturday. Southern California has scored 216.

Three other power teams, Pittsburg, Minnesota and Tennessee ran wild against Allegheny, Ripon and W. and L., respectively, providing that they can beat the good ones and make the bad ones look silly. Texas didn't look like anybody's chump, either, in running up 39 points on Rice. As for Nebraska, it caught its usual tartar in Missouri and had to pass its way to a tie in the last period. Chicago didn't even have that chance against Purdue. A much inferior team, it finished the game with a record of not having scored on Purdue since 1927, whereas the latter has totaled 66 points. Utah's position is still to be questioned by Colorado College, of course.

"Red" Grange Has Returned To Form
(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The Red Grange of old was recalled to football fans today following the former Illinois star's sensational runs in the Chicago Bears 27-0 victory over the Minneapolis Red Jackets in yesterday's National Professional League game.

Grange did some spectacular ball carrying, nabbed several passes for long gains and returned punts far into the enemy territory as his mates defeated Herb Josting's men.

Lester Bell Is Bought By Cubs

Chicago Cubs Seek To Add Strength To Infield For Next Year's Campaign

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Vannished in the world series by the Philadelphia Athletics, Chicago Cubs have begun the process of strengthening their ball club for 1930, it was revealed today with the announcement that Lester Bell, formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves has been signed to play third base.

Bell's purchase at a reported figure of $35,000 was agreed upon at a conference in Washington, D. C. and was confirmed by William Veck, president of the 1929 National league champions.

Veck and Judge Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves closed the deal after the Cubs had been unsuccessful in bidding for "Pinky" Whitney. Acquisition of Bell ends a ten-year search for a strong third baseman that has cost the Cubs some $500,000 according to the management.

Jones-Belanger Battle Tonight

Negro Light-Heavyweight Who Battled In Jolly Bowl Hopes To Beat Belanger

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Billy Jones, Pittsburgh negro light heavyweight, and Charley Belanger French-Canadian, clash again in the headliner of the arena's weekly boxing show tonight to determine which is the better man. Three weeks ago they battled fiercely for ten rounds and the officials called it a draw. Tonight both vow the feud will end via the knockout route.

Kayode a few weeks ago by Eddie Reed, another colored star, Johnny Jadick, lanky Kensington lightweight, will attempt to prove it was all a mistake, in the ten round semi-wind-up.

Other bouts are: Frankie Hayes vs. Al Gracio, Spokane, Wash., six rounds; Mickey Diamond vs. Willie Patterson, six rounds, and Bobby Barrett, veteran Clifton Heights redhead, versus Reds Rousch, Sellersville, six rounds.

The fellow who lives by the side of the road to the friend of man is probably charging extra to pull him out of the mud.—The Indianapolis Star.

Former West Point Grider Will Wed Bernice Chrysler

Heiress To Chrysler Millions Will Wed Ed Garbisch, Former Well Known Grider

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Society and sports circles received with surprise today the news that Bernice Chrysler, daughter and heiress of Walter P. Chrysler, automobile manufacturer, is going to become the bride of William Edgar "Big Ed" Garbisch, former all-American star of the Army.

Formal announcement of the couple's engagement will be made tonight at the Great Neck, L. I., home of the Chryslers.

Miss Chrysler, who is 21, is a graduate of Ely Court at Greenwich, Conn. After completing a year of study of languages and art in Paris she made her debut during the season of 1926-27. Garbisch is the son of Dr. H. C. Garbisch of Washington, Pa. He was graduated from West Point in 1925 and resigned his commission in the army to become affiliated with a New York cotton brokerage house in 1926.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ
Pitt, Dartmouth, Cornell and Western Maryland are tied for three unbeaten and untied football elevens in the East. All of them, however, have been scored upon. Carnegie, Army and Williams have been removed from the unbeaten, untied list. Fordham and Elkins are in the tied class. Grove City is mentioned in the East with four victories, one deadlock and 131 against 19 points.

Mickie Walker will defend his middleweight championship against Ace Hudkins Tuesday night at Los Angeles. Friday night Tony Herrera will meet Sid Terris in one of the bouts in which Jack Dempsey will feature Tony Cazoner against Stanislaus Loyaza. Next Monday night here Johnny Burns, who has a brilliant California record, will tackle Henry Firpo, the Louisville puzzle.

Lester Bell, third baseman for the Boston Braves, is through wearing a Bostonian uniform. He has been sold to the Chicago Cubs.

Leroy Westerweller, Washington end, rushed from the sidelines Saturday and tackled Bobby Robinson, Oregon halfback, who intercepted a pass. A touchdown was conceded the Webfooters, who won, 14 to 0. Lesterweller said he knew he should not have done it, but "I just couldn't help it and went after him." He had been removed from the game owing to injuries only a few minutes prior. He now ranks with Riegels and Merkle.

Jackie Rodgers and Johnny McCoy clash at Oil City, and Buck McTierman will go against George Pfister at Pittsburgh tonight. While fans center attention on these bouts the pastebord sale for Pimp and Burns will start here Tuesday, with the ducaits being placed at the Leslie, Bowl and Sport Goods store.

The small game hunting season opens Friday in Pennsylvania and indoors are cleaning and oiling their "long barrels." During the past week there has been a rush to the courthouse to secure hunting licenses.

Four Injured In Train Crash On Chicago Elevated

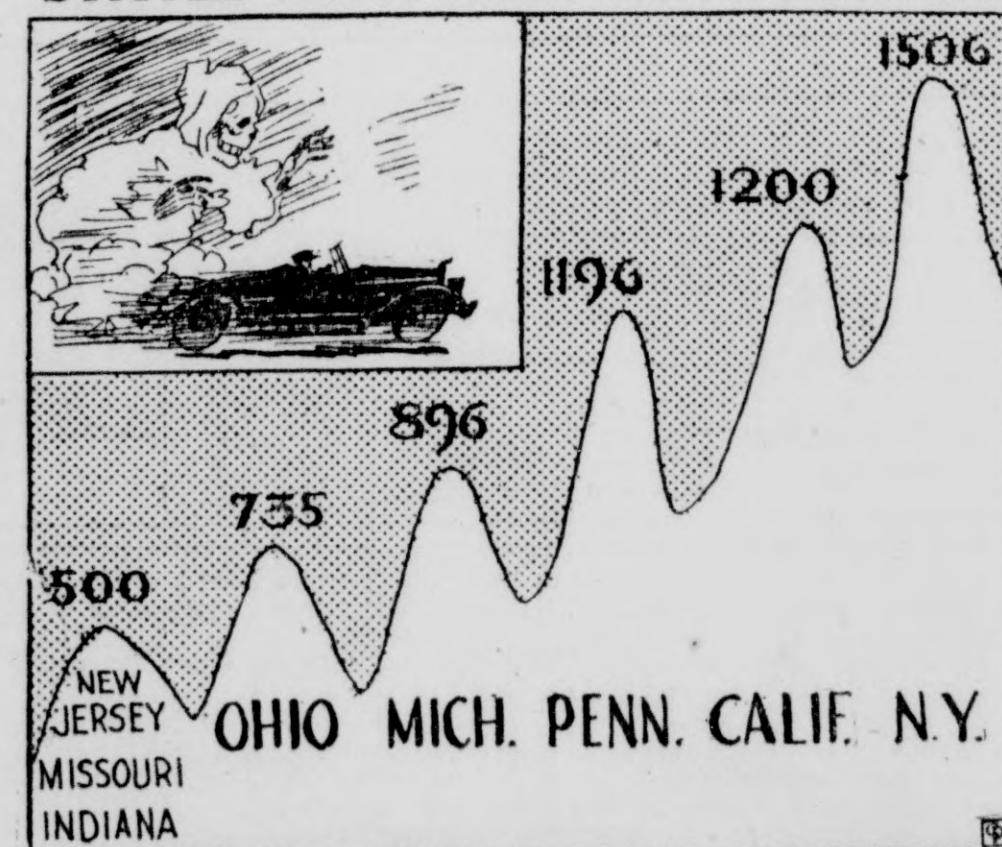

One Young Girl And Three Naval Training Students Reported As Injured Today

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Four persons were injured here today and a score of others were severely shaken up when a local elevated train crashed into a stalled train of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad, which operates in Chicago on the elevated structure.

The crash was not reported to police for three hours after it happened. Then it was learned that Miss Esther Hill, 22, of Chicago and three sailors from the Great Lakes Training station had been given hospital treatment. The names of the sailors were not revealed.

The cause of the crash was not given out.

There is nothing more exasperating (and more damaging) than a cold engine that is slow to start. And such winter driving annoyance is so unnecessary! The solution is Sinclair Aircraft Gasoline. It starts cold engines fast! It is the Ace of high test gasolines.

Put Sinclair Aircraft Gasoline into your tank and put real pleasure into winter driving. This remarkable gasoline produces a carburetted mixture that fires readily on the first turning over of the engine.

It insures complete combustion in a cold running engine and maintains power output of the engine after it has warmed up. Reduces choking and motor oil dilution. Eliminates engine balk, gas locks and jerky operation.

It meets the specifications of the Federal Specifications Board for Aviation Gasoline, domestic grade. Try it today — at the Sinclair Pump with the Aircraft Globe.

Purdue Looks Like Conference Champs

Purdue's 26 To 0 Defeat Of Chicago Shoots Conference Stock Upward

Four Big Ten Teams Undefeated, Minnesota, Ohio State, Purdue And Illinois

By GEORGE C. GALLATI
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Purdue leading the pack, that is how the western conference race runs today with three of the seven Saturday's on this season's calendar gone by.

Although the leaders are beginning to make their presence felt, not even the boldest of critics is ready to designate the likely champion.

Four big ten teams remain undefeated, Purdue, Minnesota, Ohio State and Illinois, but the latter two have marred their records with a tie apiece. Two others, Iowa and Northwestern, each has suffered only one defeat, leaving six teams which still have a mathematical chance at the crown.

Ohio State Looks Bad
Saturday's four games showed if nothing else that Ohio State and Chicago can lay little claim to a place in the first row. Ohio State demonstrated Saturday that it was not powerful enough to score on Indiana, which was considered one of this year's weak sisters.

A win for the Buckeyes would have placed them on top with three straight victories, but Indiana's success in many departments of the game indicated that Ohio State is not to be taken seriously.

Chicago, holding a clean record until just before the Purdue storm clouds appeared. Demonstrated that competition is too keen this season. A hard running, hard blocking Purdue team led by Ralph "Pest" Welch cut the Maroons down with a 26 to 0 score.

Illinois showed little in its victory over Michigan's trampled band. Two touchdowns, both made on long runs and not from scrimmage, gave Michigan a 14 to 0 defeat. The Illini were a better team than Michigan, but they showed little punch.

Michigan showed great improvement in its line play, but the attack is still weak.

Minnesota Strong
Coach Spears' powerful Minnesota team has been hiding away in the northland thus far this year, emerging only once to trounce Northwestern. From all appearances this year's race will be a matter for Purdue and Minnesota to settle.

Wisconsin's big red team is a close second to Michigan when the year's disappointments are listed. The Badgers have been whipped three times thus far without them scoring a point in retaliation. Iowa did it Saturday with a 14 to 0 score.

Iowa by virtue of its showing against Illinois and Wisconsin show that they are dangerous on any Saturday afternoon, and the Hawkeyes may spill someone's championship hopes. The Hawkeyes still stand in the title path of Purdue and Minnesota.

Killing Of Miner Is Being Probed By State Police

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Oct. 28.—The mystery surrounding the killing of Samuel Vidnjedich, 36, is believed to be near solution today as state police continue their investigation.

Vidnjedich was found yesterday morning on the rear porch of a house at the Lower mines with his chest and abdomen split open, evidently from a hard blow delivered by his unknown assailant using a hatchet.

Dan Rajak, a neighbor, made the discovery and notified Deputy Coroner C. C. Rodgers and Constable David Kelly of Irwin. Corporal George Pierce took charge of the investigation for state police.

Of course the meek shall inherit the earth. The others haven't any children to inherit anything.

Pioneers Defeat Neshannock Juniors

The Pioneers football team downed the Neshannock Avenue Juniors 24 to 14 in a game played at the Sampson street field on Saturday morning.

Maher, Patton and Robinson scored two touchdowns apiece for their respective teams. The Neshannocks led at the half 7 to 6. Patton scored both touchdowns for the Juniors on passes. The game was hard fought in every quarter.

If the farm board expects to do its bit for relief as efficiently as congress did, it has only seven years and nine months to show results.

Wall Street In Spotlight Again As Market Opens

Stock Prices Under Avalanche Of Selling Decline Sharply In Early Hours

TRADING HEAVY ON BOARD TODAY

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Wall street held the spotlight again today when stock prices, under an avalanche of selling, declined sharply in the first hour of trading. United States Steel fell below 200 for the second time in months, slumping to 198½, five points below Saturday's close.

General Electric dropped 27½ points to 270 and Westinghouse declined 16½ to 163. These two issues showed the most pronounced weakness in early trading.

All stocks, however, did not weaken. Many issues were selling only a fraction easier or holding firm.

Trading is heavy, sales aggregating 816,000 shares for the first half hour. The ticker was 22 minutes behind in reporting sales.

Other pivotal issues that were easier on early trading were: Radio 51½, down 7; Johns Manville 155, down 5½; National Cash Register 90, down 4; American and Foreign Power 90½, down 9, and Sears Roebuck 121, down 6.

The declines were no great surprise to brokers. They had anticipated considerable liquidation. So-called weak accounts, here and elsewhere throughout the country, were being "cleaned up." All day yesterday clerks worked in Wall street brokerage houses checking up on accounts.

Bears Are Active.

Bearish professionals took advantage of the heavy liquidation to press operations for the decline and, as the noon hour approached, the whole market was under severe pressure. At 11:45 a. m. the ticker had fallen even further behind, being 37 minutes late at this period.

The curb market trading was also strenuous in volume. The curb ticker was 33 minutes behind.

General Electric slumped further under renewed pressure, declining to 262½, a 35-point drop from Saturday's close. Most of the market favorites, however, were only from two to ten points lower at this juncture, although several issues had declined more than ten points. For example, Westinghouse Electric was down to 161, off 18, and Johns Manville dropped 13½ points to 147.

Sales up to noon aggregated 3,135,200 shares. This was at the rate of 8,000,000 shares a day.

There was no hysteria, no undue excitement as brokers transacted their business on the floor of the exchange. Although there was no letup in the heavy selling throughout the forenoon there was no sign of demoralization.

United States Steel eased off further as the day progressed. Shortly before 1 p. m. this stock was selling at 130, 10 points below Saturday's close. At the same time General Electric, at 256, was off 4½ points, and Standard Gas, at 118½, was down 18 points.

New Castle today seen the world's largest tire. Braatz's service having had the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company send it to New Castle for display. It was hauled around the city streets during the morning.

It is 12 feet high, four feet wide, tread, 600 pounds; fabric, 150 pounds; inner tube, 125 pounds; nonskid diamonds, 16 inches long, 10 inches wide and has a load carrying capacity of 40,000 to 50,000 pounds.

The wheel weighs 600 pounds and the rim is four feet in diameter, 30 inches wide. The total weight of the tire is 1800 pounds and it is valued at $5,000. It takes 45 minutes to inflate the tire to pressure of three pounds. It can be operated along a highway at a rate of 30 miles an hour.

The tire was brought here by G. W. Donaldson and the truck was driven by A. J. Gentile. Bill Braatz, local dealer directed the display in New Castle.

Court Teresa Irene, No. 231, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold their regular meeting in the Knights of Columbus home on North Jefferson street this evening at 8 o'clock. Important business will be transacted.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

You can believe this one or not but that doesn't affect the truth of it. Coming up Jefferson street near the public square Sunday afternoon was a sedan. A lot of other cars too for that matter, but this story concerns the sedan in question.

There was something in the back of the car that attracted the attention of passersby and as we went by the object proved to be a pony. A live one, not one of the kind you used to buy for a couple of dollars back before Volstead. How they got the pony in the back of the sedan was a puzzle but there he was, enjoying the scenery with as much appreciation as a dog-ager. The back seat had been taken out and was strapped to the running board.

Took in the Grove City-Geneva football game Saturday afternoon and customers, it wasn't much of a football game. A lad named Waleski and ten other football players romped all over the joint and several necks of the Geneva outfit and by the time the game was over the score sounded like a telephone number, 34-0.

This Waleski is more than just a football player. He's an eel. Weighing about 165 he slips through a line like a rumor through a girls' boarding school, and with or without interference he made his gains. Geneva did everything they could about it, but the only way they could have had much of a chance with Grove City Saturday was to have broken both of Waleski's legs.

Nice view sitting in the Reeves stadium. One gets to looking over at the hills on the other side of the river and visualizing the Indians who used to roam there centuries ago. Old Chief Soup-on-the-Vest probably used to ride his Mustang over those hills and if the chief could have looked down on the scene Saturday afternoon when a player got knocked chilly now and then, he probably would have thought scalping wasn't so bad after all.

High up on the hillside across the river is an enormous "G" worked out in whitewashed stones. Twenty or 30 students spent the game guarding the "G" for Grove City students have a habit of painting it red whenever they get the opportunity. For the past ten days freshmen have taken turns at guarding the "G" night and day.

News note for motorists. A few more bricks have been laid on the street running through College Hill. The contractor hopes to be out of the trenches by Christmas.

Did some hurried roaming this morning. Another fire in New Wilmington and, customers, it was a warm affair. The village was hot this morning and most of the water trickled onto it from the New Wilmington mains turned to steam before it hit the blaze.

Had perfect interference for the run going up. The pressure pump engine and Chief Charley Lynn were in front of me and don't think that truck can't wheel. It was doing 55 right along, which is fast enough even going to a fire.

Glenn O'Donovan, basketball star of Westminster, got a lot of practice passing this morning. He was passing furniture down the stairs. Regular five-man defense.

John Witherspoon, another basketball star, lost most of his clothes in the fire, and for a time at least he will have one suit for every day in the week, and that the one he has on.

Presents Plan For Park Development

James R. McConahy, department of internal affairs, Harrisburg, today presented to city council a water color drawing of the proposed development of Gaston park, one of New Castle's real, natural beauty spots.

The plan will be framed and placed on exhibition in some local show window.

It shows a lake, now a ravine, drives, playgrounds, dance pavilion, spot for reflector lights and the different essentials which go to make a park for persons seeking recreation and also for children free of proximity to accident.

Milk Dealers To Meet Wednesday

State Health Department Attache To Explain State
Milk Act

Milk dealers of this city will convene at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday to hear a representative of the state department of health explain the new act of assembly which affects dealers, bottlers and pasteurizing plants. It is also hoped to have Dr. Fetterman, Pittsburgh farm inspector, Rieck company and Mr. Johnson, Beaver Valley Dairy Testing laboratory, discuss the practical side of farm inspection.

Week's Bowling Schedule Changed

A revised bowling schedule for the present week was announced this morning by Henry MacNicholas, acting physical director of the New Castle "Y".

The schedule for the week follows: Tuesday evening: First Baptists vs. Central Presbyterian; Wednesday evening: Congregational vs. First Christian; and Thursday evening: Central Christians vs. Epworth M. E. and Croton Methodists vs. Mahoning Methodists.

Hallowe'en celebrations made the change necessary.

Resume Plumbing Hearing Tuesday
Plumbers and Inspector Ed Stevenson go to battle again Tuesday morning at city council chambers, the mayor having ordered the hearing resumed.

A petition signed by some plumbing firms and some journeymen plumbers charged incompetency, favoritism and failure to enforce the code and requested the inspector of plumbing be deposed.

Stevenson denied the charges and council ordered a hearing. Some witnesses have been heard and the inspector himself took the stand but lack of time forced an adjournment. The hearing will be resumed Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

TO TAKE LIGHT DOWN

City Electrician George Nickum today will be ordered by Councilman Reeves to remove the traffic signal light at Laurel and Highland avenues. He recommended its removal when council met Friday.
